Arrival...

Welcome to Fort Lewis. The post is the home of I Corps; 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division; 3rd Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division; the 1st Special Forces Group (Airborne); the 2nd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment; the Fourth ROTC Region headquarters; Madigan Army Medical Center and a number of other nondivisional support units and tenant organizations.

Fort Lewis has sub-installations at Yakima Training Center, and Vancouver Barracks. The main post and North Fort Lewis are located on 86,721 acres of woodlands, prairies and lakes. With 691 miles of roads, restaurants, stores, banks, taxi and bus service, schools, libraries, hospital and recreation facilities, it has almost everything a person could need. Nearly 19,000 soldiers and 5,000 civilian employees work and live at Fort Lewis.

Fort Lewis was named in honor of explorer Meriwether Lewis. leader of the famous Lewis and Clark Expedition to the Pacific Northwest from 1804 to 1806. Founded in 1917 as Camp Lewis, the fort was designated a permanent Army post in 1927. Brick barracks and office buildings were later built to supplement the temporary World War I structures already in place.

During the post's long history, it has been home to 14 Army divisions including 3rd Infantry, 4th Infantry and the 9th Infantry Division (Motorized). Fort Lewis has also served as a major training and personnel center for overseas deployment during World War II and the Korean and Vietnam Wars. Fort Lewis has been chosen as the center of the Army's Transformation which will ensure the force of the future which is capable of meeting the challenges across the spectrum of operations for the 21st Century.

Although Fort Lewis's mission has changed over the years, one thing has not changed: the natural setting of the post. On a clear day, majestic Mount Rainier looms on the horizon, towering over the other peaks of the Cascade Range. From the mountains to the deep waters of Puget Sound and the Pacific Ocean. the local area abounds in natural beauty and outdoor recreation opportunities. Camping, hiking, hunting, fishing, boating and skiing are a way of life in Washington. Tacoma, Olympia and Seattle offer entertainment, restaurants, shopping, and cultural events that celebrate Northwest life. Whether you come to Fort Lewis for a day's visit, TDY or a permanent move, you will soon see why the post is the Army's most popular assignment of choice.

Getting Here

If you arrive by commercial airline, information and assistance are available at the USO in the Seattle-Tacoma (Sea-Tac) International Airport. Commercial transportation is available from the airport directly to the Waller Hall Welcome and Farewell Center at Fort Lewis. While awaiting transportation, you and your family may relax in the USO lounge on the second floor.

If you are driving, you should have no trouble finding Fort Lewis. Interstate 5 goes right through the post. Exit 120 will take you to the Fort Lewis main gate, which is open 24 hours a day.

If you arrive by train, Tacoma is the stop nearest to post. Taxi and bus services are available from the station.

Those traveling by bus can make connections directly to Fort Lewis.

Reporting In

All officers and enlisted soldiers must report to the 525th Replacement Company on arrival, regardless of unit assignment. The Replacement Detachment is easily located by following signs to the Waller Hall Welcome and Farewell Center, Bldg. 2140. If you are delayed and are not able to report on the required date, call the Welcome Center at (253) 967-7004 or DSN 357-7004.

You can expect to be with the detachment four days. Once you sign in, you will receive a billeting assignment, bedding and a temporary meal card if you are not on separate rations. If your family arrives with you, the Welcome Center will help make them comfortable during your inprocessing. To avoid difficulty with obtaining temporary lodging for your family, make reservations at the Fort Lewis Lodge, (253) 964-0211.

You should have all your records with you: personnel, finance, medical and dental. You must be in uniform to inprocess. The duty uniform at Fort Lewis is BDU. Be sure you have enough uniforms with you to begin duties after inprocessing.

Finance claims are settled while inprocessing.

Getting Settled

Whether you plan on living on post or off post, you should contact the Housing Office in Bldg. 2150. The office's staff can give you the most up-to-date housing information and offer suggestions on where to look.

If you're expecting a shipment of household goods and hold baggage, contact the Joint Personal Property Shipping Office (JPPSO), Bldg. 2140, telephone 967-5293, 5093, 5427 or 1-800-521-9959. JPPSO hours are Mon-Thur, 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

If any of your household goods were damaged or lost during shipment, you have 70 days to let the Staff Judge Advocate claims section know, to ensure maximum claim reimbursement. Call 967-0704 for more information. The claims office is located in Bldg. 2027A.

All privately-owned vehicles, firearms, and pets must be registered within five working days of your arrival.

Army Community Service (ACS), Bldg. 2140, the family information and service center, can help you and your family get settled. Call 967-7166 for more information.

· · · · · · UNITS

I Corps

I Corps commands most units at Fort Lewis and carries on planning and liaison with other active and reserve component units in the continental United States and active duty units located around the Pacific Rim and Hawaii.

It is one of four corps headquarters in the active Army, and one of three based in the continental United States.

Today, I Corps has been designated as one of the active Army's contingency corps. I Corps stays prepared to deploy on short notice worldwide to command up to five divisions or a joint task force.

Soldiers from I Corps units participated in Operation Just Cause in Panama, Desert Shield and Desert Storm during the Persian Gulf War and Operation Provide Comfort for Kurdish refugees in Iraq. They helped with the restoration of order following the riots in Los Angeles, participated in Operation Safe Harbor in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba for Haitian migrants, supported relief efforts following Hurricane Andrew in Florida and Hurricane Iniki in Hawaii, and played a significant role in Operation Restore Hope in Somalia.

Jan. 15, 1993, marked the 75th anniversary of the activation of the First American Army Corps in Neufchateu, France. The corps assumed tactical responsibility for troops fighting on the western front July 4, 1918. Corps soldiers participated in battles during the Aisne-Marne Offensive, the St. Mihiel Offensive and the Battle of Meuse-Argonne. After World War I, I Corps was disbanded at Tonerre, France in 1919.

I Corps was reactivated at Fort Jackson, S.C., in 1940. In 1942, the corps was assigned to U.S. Army Forces, Southwest Pacific Area under the command of General Douglas MacArthur. I Corps' first major WWII combat assignment was the taking of Buna, New Guinea, the first allied victory over the Japanese. Corps soldiers then won battles at Hollandia and Biak, New Guinea. Later, I Corps took

Following the war, I Corps was assigned to occupation duty in Japan until 1950 when it was briefly inactivated, then reactivated at Fort Bragg, N.C., and sent to Korea, fighting on the Pusan Perimeter, near Seoul and elsewhere on the peninsula for two years. When the fighting ended, I Corps was given tactical control of U.S., United Nations and Republic of Korea forces along the western third of the Eighth Army area. The Corps continued to play an active role in Korea along the DMZ until 1971, when it was reduced to zero strength.

In 1981, I Corps was reactivated at Fort Lewis.

1st Military Police Brigade (Provisional)

The 1st MP Brigade (Provisional) provides garrison law enforcement and military police operations for I Corps, Fort Lewis and Yakima Training Center. The brigade maintains custody for prisoners assigned to the Regional Corrections Facility and provides military police combat support to I Corps and other contingency forces.

The 1st MP Bde. (Prov) is a brigade-level command organized February 24, 1976 to provide a command and control structure for the variety of MP units on Fort Lewis. The brigade has successfully maintained the balance between providing garrison force protection and wartime combat support functions.

The 504th MP Battalion was activated in the regular Army June 1, 1940 at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. In 1943, the 504th landed on the beaches of North Africa as part of the first Allied forces of World War II to fight against Rommel's Africa Corps. More recently, elements of the 504th MP Bn. deployed to Panama; Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; Somalia; Haiti; Hungary and Croatia where they performed combat support and humanitarian assistance missions. The battalion has a head-quarters and three combat support companies: the 66th, 170th and 571st MP companies.

The 704th MP Battalion was activated in April 1993 and consists of the 51st MP Detachment and Company C. The 51st MP Detachment provides brigade command and control and garrison law enforcement to the Fort Lewis community. Company C is responsible for operating the Regional Corrections Facility.

1st Personnel Group

The 1st Personnel Group was activated Sept. 16, 1990, at Fort Lewis. The unit provides military personnel service and finance support to all units assigned and attached to I Corps and Fort Lewis throughout the Northwest.

Critical wartime functions include strength accounting, replacement operations and casualty reporting. These functions, along with promotions, personnel actions and information, customer service, automation and pay are performed in peacetime for soldiers, family members, civilian employees and retirees.

Active component units assigned to the group include: Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 1st Personnel Group; I Corps Band; 22nd Personnel Service Battalion (PSB); 175th Postal Company; 525th Replacement Company; 9th Finance Battalion; and Military Personnel Division.

The 1st Personnel Group, like I Corps, is composed mostly of reserve units that are activated during wartime or for contingency operations. The group is capable of commanding and controlling over 20 personnel service battalions, replacement and postal companies.

The 22nd Personnel Service Battalion has three detachments, a replacement company and a Postal Company. The battalion is trained and equipped to deploy personnel service teams to assist I Corps in split-based operations.

The 525th Replacement Company equips, transports and assists incoming soldiers in their transition to their new units at Fort Lewis.

In December 1992, the 9th Finance Support command was redesignated the 9th Finance Battalion. In July 1997, the 9th Finance Battalion was placed under the command of the 1st Personnel Group. The 9th Finance Battalion has three detachments and a head-quarters element. When deployed, each detachment is capable of providing finance support to approximately 6,000 soldiers.

The Military Personnel Division (MPD) performs all garrison support functions such as in and out processing, central clearance, reassignment processing, retention, retirement services, mobilizations, identification cards, DEERS processing and separations. The MPD is made up of Department of the Army civilians and Adjutant General Corps soldiers.

The I Corps Band provides musical support for I Corps, Fort Lewis and the Pacific Northwest. Musical variety is achieved by using different groups within the unit. The Marching Band, Concert Band, Stage Band, Rock and Jazz Combo, Dixieland Band, Brass and Woodwind Quintets collectively perform over 600 military/civilian engagements annually.

1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division

1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division was constituted on August 5, 1917 in the National Army as an element of the 84th Division. It was organized on August 25 at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky and later reconstituted on June 24, 1921 in the Organized Reserve.

In February 1942 it was converted and redesignated as the 84th Reconnaissance Troop. The troop was ordered into active military service on October 15, 1942 and reorganized at Camp Howze, Texas. It subsequently was restructured as a mechanized cavalry unit under the 84th Airborne Division.

During World War II, the unit saw action on the Central Pacific front and fought in the battle of Guadalcanal, the Northern Solomons and Luzon. It received the Philippine Presidential Unit Citation.

The unit was moved to Madison, Wisconsin after the war. It again saw action in Korea as part of the 84th Infantry Division. During the Korean War the unit was involved in both the UN Defense and Offensive campaigns. In addition it participated in such actions as the second and third Korean winter campaigns; the Korea Summer-Fall 1952 campaign and the Korea Summer 1953 Campaign. During these campaigns the unit received the Republic of Korea Presidential Unit Citations embroidered MASAN-CHINIU and MUN-SAN-NI.

The unit was disbanded after the Korean War. It was later reconstituted in the Regular Army as part of the 167th Infantry and fought in the Vietnam War. Its actions in Vietnam included the Vietnam Counteroffensives Phases I through VII. It also saw action in the Tet, the Tet-69 and the Sanctuary Counteroffensives.

For its Vietnam service, the unit received the Meritorious Unit Commendation. It was also awarded the Republic of Vietnam Civil Action Honor Medal, First Class, and twice awarded the Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with Palm.

The unit was redesignated on June 21, 1963 as the current 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division and activated August 26, 1963 in Hawaii.

Subordinate elements of the 1st Brigade at Fort Lewis are: 1/5th Infantry Battalion, 1/33rd Armor Battalion, Battalion, 1/24th Infantry Battalion, the 25th Forward Support Battalion, the 2/8th Field Artillery Battalion, Company D, 65th Engineer Battalion and Battery C, 5th Br. 5th ADA..

3rd Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division

The 3rd Brigade was established as the 1st Provisional Brigade on August 11, 1917 in Syracuse, New York. Redesignated on September 22, 1917 as Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 3rd Infantry Brigade, it was assigned to the 2nd Infantry Division. A month later the Brigade was sent to France where it saw heavy fighting as part of the American Expeditionary Force in World War I. 3rd Brigade distinguished itself in combat and was the highest decorated American unit earning six battle streamers for its participation in the major campaigns of Aisne, Aisne-Marne, Lorraine 1918, Ile de France 1918, St Michiel, and Meuse-Croix de Guerre and three streamers for the battles of Chateau-Thierry, Aisne-Mame, and Meuse-Argonne. The French yellow and green forragere symbolizes this accomplishment, and it is still worn on the left shoulder of every soldier assigned to the Brigade.

Following the end of the war, 3rd Brigade remained in Germany for a period of one year as part of the U.S. Army of Occupation. In late 1919, the Brigade returned to Fort Sam Houston, Texas and was subsequently deactivated on October 9,1939.

On February 1 1963, 3rd Brigade was reactivated and reassigned to the 2nd Infantry Division at Fort Benning, Georgia. On July 1, 1965, 3rd Brigade moved to Korea where its mission was to guard the Western Corridor. The Brigade was known as the Frontline Brigade for its service along the Korean DMZ. From the mid 60's to the early 90's, the Brigade was involved in combating multiple North Korean intrusions and infiltrations. Relieved of its mission by the Republic of Korea, the Brigade was deactivated on September 16, 1992.

On March 29, 1995 the 3rd Brigade was reactivated at Fort Lewis, Washington as part of I Corps with the mission of reinforcing the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea. In late 1999, the Chief of Staff of the Army designated the Arrowhead Brigade as the Initial Brigade Combat Team for the Army's Medium Weight Brigade Initiative. The Brigade's mission will be to deploy anywhere in the world within 96 hours to protect and defend the interests of the United States of America. The Brigade is comprised of 1-23 Infantry, 5-20 Infantry, C Company, 52nd Infantry, 1-32 Armor, 1-37 Field Artillery, 168 Engineer Battalion, and 296th Forward Support Battalion.

Formed on June 26, 1812, the 23rd Infantry Regiment has tirelessly embodied its motto "We serve," participating in over 50 battles as a part of eight wars from the war of 1812 to Vietnam; and is one of the most decorated infantry units in army history originally designated the 2nd Armored Regiment assigned to the 3rd Armored Division, the 32nd was first activated on April 15, 1941 at Camp Beaureguard, Louisiana. During World War II, the 32nd Armored Regiment earned its motto "Victory or death" as part of the tip of the spear for the 3rd Armored Spearhead Division.

Activated March 1, 2000 as E Company (anti-tank), 1st Battalion, 32nd Armor, and recently redesignated as C Company (anti-tank), 52nd Infantry was the first unit to activate under the Chief of Staff's new medium weight brigade initiative. C Company (anti-tank), 52nd Infantry represents the proud traditions established by the famed "Tank Destroyer" units of World War II.

The 1st Battalion, 37th Field Artillery Regiment traces its lineage to Camp Lewis, Washington, where it was organized as Battery A, 37th Field Artillery in July 1918. In World War II and Korea, the battalion fired in support of the 2nd Infantry Division where it received universal recognition for its valorous service.

The 168th Engineer Battalion was activated at Camp Carson, Colorado on May 5, 1943. This battalion has fought in France, Belgium, Germany, and Vietnam and supported seven divisions including the 2nd Infantry Division.

The 296th Forward Support Battalion was activated on December 15, 1944 as headquarters and headquarters detachment, 296th Quartermaster Battalion (mobile) at Camp Bowie, Texas. During the Korean War, the Frontline Battalion supported American and allied soldiers in difficult terrain and extreme weather conditions.

The 5th Battalion, 20th Infantry Regiment was originally constituted on May 3, 1861 in the regular army as Company E, 2d Battalion, 11th Infantry. It is credited with 12 civil war campaigns to include Manassas, Anietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg, It has also served in the Spanish American War, World War I and World War II, as well as Korea.

Originally designated the 2nd Armored Regiment assigned to the 3rd Armored Division, the 32nd was first activated on April 15, 1941 at Camp Beaureguard, LA. During World War II, the 32nd Armored Regiment earned its motto "Victory or death" as part of the tip of the spear for the 3rd Armored Spearhead Division. The bandits' decorations include the Presidential Unit Citation, Valorous Unit Award, Meritorious Unit Commendation, and the Belgian Fourragere.

62nd Medical Group

Proud and steadfast, the 62nd Medical Group provides I Corps a rapidly deployable corps level medical force capability consisting of air and ground medical evacuation, forward surgical, hospitalization, combat stress control, preventive medicine, dental and veterinary. When called upon to deploy the 62nd Medical Group relies heavily on Madigan Army Medical Center and the Dental Command for professional officer and enlisted personnel to fill required positions.

Units assigned to the 62nd Medical Group are: The 520th and 547th Area Support Medical Companies; the 47th Combat Support Hospital which has under its control the 3d Medical Team (Infection Control). 53rd Head and Neck Team, and the 252nd Neurosurgical team; the 54th Air Ambulance Company, 514th Ground Ambulance Company, 105th Preventive Medicine Detachment (Entomology), and 227th Preventive Medicine Detachment (Sanitation). Also assigned directly under the medical group's control are the 98th Combat Stress Control Detachment, 250th Medical Detachment (Surgical Airborne) and the 673rd Dental Company.

The 62nd Medical Group ensures its corps level medical force is ready for deployment through a robust operational training and support tempo executed at the Joint Readiness Training Center, National Training Center, Yakima Training Center, various directed off-post exercises and on-post training exercises. While on Fort Lewis, subordinate units hone critical clinical skills and assist in maintaining a healthy Army force through assisting in installation combat stress, dental, preventive medicine, veterinary and ambulance evacuation support.

While in garrison, 54th Medical Company provides "Dust Off," aerial evacuations for soldiers injured or ill during training operations. They also have a special mission of Military Assistance to Safety and Traffic (MAST) which uses its helicopters to transport injured or ill military and civilian patients to nearby medical centers.

The 62nd Medical Group annually sponsors the Expert Field Medical Badge. During an intense two-week period of training and testing, candidates from Active, Reserve and National Guard units from throughout the Western United States compete for this coveted badge.

The 62nd Medical Group deployed to Saudi Arabia for support during Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm and to Florida for Hurricane Andrew relief. More recently, over 300 soldiers from the 62nd Medical Group deployed to Somalia for Operation Restore Hope. The 62nd provided complete medical support to the multinational Joint Task Force. The 62nd Medical Group deployed to Nicaragua for Hurricane Mitch and in support of JTF Bravo.

The 62nd Medical Group is trained and ready to put corps level medical power on the ground when and where it is needed.

201st Military Intelligence Brigade

The 201st Military Intelligence Brigade, created Sept. 1, 1987, represents the nucleus of I Corps' intelligence support. It is a "total force" unit with the 502nd and 14th MI Battalions, the 29th Signal Battalion and the Army Reserve 373rd MI Battalion.

The 502nd Military Intelligence Battalion originally deactivated in Taegu, Korea, Sept. 1, 1952, and provided vital and timely intelligence support during and after the Korean War until it was deactivated in 1955. Reactivated at Yongsan, Korea, in 1961, the 502nd provided key analytical research on the developing North Korean Army until they were deactivated again in 1978. Reactivated at Fort Lewis on Oct. 1, 1986, 201st now has four active component companies.

The 14th Military Intelligence Battalion was activated at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, on November 24, 1965. On Feb. 10, 1966, the unit deployed to the Republic of Vietnam, directly supporting the efforts of the 82nd Airborne Division, Special Forces elements, the 196th Light Infantry Brigade and the XVIII Airborne Corps until inactivation in January 1973. The 14th MI reactivated at Fort Lewis Dec. 16, 1988. The battalion consists of four active component companies and one reserve component.

The 29th Signal Battalion is the only active duty signal unit supporting I Corps and provides its sole source of tactical communications. The unit was one of the first to use Mobile Subscriber Equipment and is tasked to provide MSE support for the Corps during training and deployment. The battalion also has significant multichannel tactical satellite and radio teletype assets to support the missions of the Army, Department of Defense and non-DOD organizations. Originally activated April 10, 1942, at Camp Gordon, Georgia, the battalion landed at Utah Beach during the Normandy invasion of World War II. The 29th was a key command and control asset supporting the lines of communication for the 12th Army Group and the Third U.S. Army in Normandy, Northern France, the Ardennes, Rheinland and Central Europe. After the war, the unit redeployed to Camp Polk, La., and served in support of wire communications at Fort Sill, Okla... and Fort Hood. Texas, before arriving at Fort Lewis.

555th Engineer Group

The "Triple Nickel" activated at Fort Lewis Jan. 16, 1993, from elements of the 15th Engineer Battalion (9th Infantry Division) and the 7th Engineer Brigade from Germany.

The group's mission is to deploy worldwide to provide command and control and engineer support for Army and joint/combined contingency operations.

Subordinate units include Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 555th Combat Engineer Group; the 864th Engineer Battalion (Combat)(Heavy); the 14th Combat Engineer Battalion (Corps); and the 87th Engineer Detachment (Firefighters).

The 864th Engineer Battalion (Combat)(Heavy) constructs and rehabilitates roads, airfields, buildings and utilities. The battalion maintains an extensive construction program serving the Fort Lewis community. The battalion deployed to Saudi Arabia during Operation Desert Storm and has deployed to the southwestern United States to support the border counter-drug task force, fought forest fires in Idaho, and performed numerous construction projects in Thailand during Cobra Gold '97.

The 14th Engineer Battalion (Corps) is the active Army's only wheeled engineer battalion. The 14th is specifically configured to provide combat engineer support to light infantry operations.

The battalion commanded the group's firefighting task force in Idaho and regularly provides engineer support to units at the Joint Readiness Training Center and the National Training Center.

The 87th Engineer Detachment (Firefighters), one of only two active duty firefighting detachments in the Army, works regular shifts with the Fort Lewis Fire Department providing tactical firefighting support to Army and Air Force operations.

593d Corps Support Group

The 593d Corps Support Group is the largest unit on Fort Lewis. It supports I Corps and other Fort Lewis units with direct support supply and maintenance, transportation services and materiel management.

During a deployment or in combat, they would provide similar logistics support to units in theater.

The 593d CSG activated at Fort Lewis March 21, 1973, as the 593rd Area Support Group.

The group consists of the 44th Corps Support Battalion, 80th Ordnance Battalion and 20th Support Center (Corps Materiel Management Center).

The 593d CSG has earned three Meritorious Unit Commendation

Medals, a Philippines Presidential Unit Citation and the Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with Palm.

Since the 593d returned from Operations Desert Storm, Desert Shield, and Desert Farewell in November 1991, the Group has deployed soldiers to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba for Haitian relief, to Kuwait and Honduras; to Florida for Hurricane Andrew relief; to Belgium for Reforger; to Egypt for Bright Star; to Korea for Team Spirit, and to Somalia from Dec. 24, 1992 until May 18, 1993 to support humanitarian efforts for Operations Restore Hope and Continue Hope.

On Nov. 16, 1993, the 593d Area Support Group completed the transition to a Corps Support Group.

The unit's mission changed from a rear sustaining base to a mobile, critical link between the rear sustaining base and units forward on the battlefield.

1115th Signal Battalion

The 1115th Signal Battalion, dual-hatted as the Directorate of Information Management (DOIM), provides Information Mission Area support to I Corps and Fort Lewis and Yakima Training Center. It also supports active duty and reserve component units throughout the seven-state region consisting of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Montana, Nevada and California.

The military and civilian personnel assigned to the battalion provide communications for power projection to I Corps warfighters, and day-to-day communications to Fort Lewis, the fifth largest city in the state. Services provided include telephone, email and Internet, automation and networking, records and publications management, data processing, video teleconferencing, telecommunications message center, and full postal services for all official mail.

I Corps Noncommissioned Officer Academy

The I Corps Noncommissioned Officer Academy is a Fort Lewis based Forces Command NCO Academy. The academy is charged with the mission of training and educating selected noncommissioned officers to become effective leaders, trainers, role models and standard bearers for the United States Army. Courses of instruction are geared toward qualified active, National Guard and Reserve soldiers at the Primary (PLDC) and the Basic (BNCOC) levels.

TENANT UNITS

1st Special Forces Group (Airborne)

The 1st Special Forces Group (Airborne) is one of five active duty Special Forces Groups assigned to the U.S. Army Special Forces Command at Fort Bragg, N.C. The 1st Special Forces Group (Airborne) is tasked to support the U.S. Pacific Command by conducting special operations, in peace and war, in the Asia/Pacific Theater.

Special Forces soldiers are carefully selected, specially trained and capable of extended operations in extremely remote and hostile environments. 1st Special Forces Group's soldiers are language and culturally oriented to specific countries and regions in Asia. Their missions include unconventional warfare, special reconnaissance, direct action, foreign internal defense and counter terrorism.

The 1st Special Forces Group (Airborne) consists of three battalions, one of which is forward deployed to Okinawa, Japan. Each battalion has 18 "A" detachments manned by the Army's most highly trained soldiers equipped with state-of-the-art weapons and equipment. An "A" detachment consists of 12 team members, one officer, one warrant officer and 10 noncommissioned officers.

2nd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment

The 2nd Battalion of the 75th Ranger Regiment is a mobile, highly trained airborne ranger light infantry force. The Rangers are organized and prepared to conduct commando-type operations under any climate conditions and in urban or rural terrain. The battalion maintains the capability of deploying rapidly, without prior notice, to any location in the world. The unit can infiltrate by land, sea or air and is capable of independent conventional and special operations for a limited duration. The battalion trains in arctic, jungle, desert and mountainous environments throughout the year.

The 2nd Ranger Battalion was originally organized in October 1948, as an element of the 5307th Composite Unit (Provisional), better known as Merrill's Marauders, which was later redesignated the 75th Infantry. The battalion also traces its lineage through the six Ranger battalions of World War II, as well as the Airborne Ranger companies of the Korean and Vietnam conflicts.

In 1973, the Army chief of staff directed the activation of the first battalion sized Ranger unit since World War II. He declared, "The Ranger Battalion is to be the most elite, light and proficient infantry battalion in the world. A battalion that can do things with its hands and weapons better than anyone... Wherever the Ranger Battalion goes, it must be apparent that it is the best." In January 1974, the 1st Ranger Battalion activated at Fort Stewart, GA. The 2nd Ranger Battalion subsequently activated at Fort Lewis on October 1, 1974.

On October 25, 1983, the 1st and 2nd Ranger Battalions spearheaded Operation "Urgent Fury," the invasion of Grenada, with a lowlevel airborne assault onto Point Salinas airstrip. Because of the demonstrated effectiveness of the Rangers, the Army activated the Regimental headquarters and the 3rd Ranger Battalion in 1984, both at Fort Benning, GA.

On December 20, 1989, the 2nd Ranger Battalion again distinguished itself during Operation "Just Cause," with a night combat airborne assault into Rio Hato airfield in the Republic of Panama. Both of these operations contributed significantly to the restoration of democracy on the Island of Grenada and in Panama.

Most recently, the battalion deployed to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba and Les Cayes, Haiti to plan and conduct operations in support of Operation "Uphold Democracy" in September of 1994, and while undergoing jungle training at Fort Sherman, Panama, in December 1994, the battalion was called on to quell rioting inside Cuban refugee camps during Operation "Safe Haven."

Today, the 2nd Ranger Battalion stands ready to respond at a moment"s notice to the directives of the National Command Authority in support of the policies and objectives of the United States government.

Fourth ROTC Region

The Fourth ROTC Region manages 383 junior (high school) and 77 senior (college) Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) programs.

Geographically, the Fourth Region is the largest of the Army's three regions, covering 21 western states, Guam, American Samoa and the Marianas. The Region has been headquartered at Fort Lewis since July 3, 1973.

Each summer, Fort Lewis hosts ROTC Advanced Camp. Approximately 3,700 ROTC Cadets from across the nation attended the 1998 camp to train and be evaluated on their potential to be Army officers.

Senior ROTC produces more than 70 percent of the Army's officer corps, commissioning approximately 3,800 officers annually for the Active Army, Army Reserve and Army National Guard.

ROTC offers scholarships and financial assistance to qualified college students throughout the region. Successful completion of the training is a requirement for receiving a commission as a second lieutenant.

Junior ROTC motivates young people to be better citizens. The program builds self-esteem, develops confidence and teaches the importance of graduating from high school.

5th United States Army

The Office of the Deputy Commanding General (operations and training), Fifth United States Army at Fort Lewis is an element of Headquarters, Fifth United States Army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Fifth Army is responsible for the mobilization and deployment readiness, and provides training support to Army National Guard and U.S. Army Reserve units in a 21state area that comprises approximately 195,000 reserve component soldiers. On order, Fifth Army executes mobilization operations and coordinates military support to civil authorities

The Deputy Commanding General for Operations and Training assists the Fifth United States Army Commanding General with training synchronization, support implements of component integration initiatives within the entire Fifth Army 21-state area of responsibility and serves as commander, Weapons of Mass Destruction response Task Force-West.

4th Brigade, 91st Division (Training Support)

The 4th Brigade, 91st Division (training support) is a group of highly trained and experienced Active Duty, Reserve and National Guard soldiers whose mission is to assist Reserve Component (RC) units in achieving and maintaining proficiency and readiness for mobilization and deployment in the event of a national emergency as part of our nation's contingency force. It does this by providing training assistance and support to near and long-range planning plans, objective evaluations, and enforcing the Army standards in training execution.

This Fifth U.S. Army organization was created when the former 191st Infantry Brigade (Training Support) reflagged in September 1999 as part of the Chief of Staff of the Army's Training Support XXI AC/RC Integration Initiative. The brigade is organized as a tri-component unit (Active, Army National Guard and USAR) of the 91st Division (Training Support) and consists of ten subordinate AC and RC battalions consisting of Combat Arms, Combat Support and Combat Service Support elements. The 4th Brigade, 91st Division (Training Support) supports and provides training assistance and support to enhance readiness of units in the Army Reserve and Army National Guard throughout Washington, Oregon, Alaska and Idaho for over 332 units ranging from surgical detachments to combat maneuver brigades. The brigade works closely with USAR Regional Support Headquarters, RC units, National Guard state headquarters, I Corps Headquarters, 7th Infantry Division, and other supporting units to provide the best possible support.

In addition to the normal peacetime training of these units, the brigade is also responsible for mobilization preparedness and training prior to deployment in the event of a national emergency. The brigade provides mobilization assistance teams and collective training support to the regional power projection platforms and power support platforms during mobilization.

The brigade also has an active Military Support to Civilian Authorities (MSCA) mission. It maintains liaison with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the state and local emergency management officials as the regional Department of Defense Coordinating Element to assist in the event of domestic emergencies such as earthquake, wildfire, flood, tornado, hurricane or acts of terrorism (weapons of mass destruction).

USACOM Joint Regional Medical Planning Office

mand unit staffed with Air Force, Navy and Army joint regional medical planners. The JRMPO's area of responsibility covers Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and California.

The JRMPO mission is to plan, integrate and execute USACOM regional medical for wartime contingencies, domestic disasters and national security emergencies. To accomplish this, it assesses regional medical resource capabilities of the DOD, other federal agencies, the states, and local healthcare facilities. The JRMPO plans for and coordinates with USTRANSCOM, DOD and VA medical treatment facilities, and civilian National Disaster Medical System (NDMS) hospitals to effect casualty reception in the event of a major theater war.

During domestic disasters or national security emergencies, JRMPO officers report to the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Emergency Support Function #8 (Health and Medical Services) as the DOD representative for medical issues. In this capacity, joint regional medical planners act as advisors to Joint Task Force commanders, Response Task Force commanders and Defense Coordinating Officers before, during and after civil emergencies and disasters.

Headquarters, 6th Military Police Group (CID)

Headquarters, 6th Military Police Group (CID) moved to Fort Lewis in 1993 from the Presidio of San Francisco, Calif. This unit is the higher headquarters of CID units on post, the 22d Military Police Battalion (CID) and 44th Military Police Detachment (CID). The group's area of responsibility includes all Army installations west of the Mississippi River to Japan and South Korea, with a mission of investigating all serious crimes for the Army and providing tactical criminal investigative command and control to Army headquarters.

The 22d MP Bn. (CID) has the mission to investigate serious crimes and conduct sensitive or special investigations involving Army interest in the western states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, California, Nevada and Alaska. The mission also includes providing criminal investigative support to I Corps and the communities of Fort Lewis, Fort Irwin, Calif., Fort Wainwright and Fort Richardson, Alaska, and their sub-installations.

The 22d MP Bn. (CID) provides logistical security, criminal intelligence and investigative support in a combat environment for I Corps.

U.S. Army Center for Health Promotion and Preventive Medicine-West

The U.S. Army Center for Health Promotion and Preventive Medicine-West (USACHPPM-West) moved to Fort Lewis from Aurora, Colorado, in March 1999. USACHPPM-West provides preventive medicine support to over 100 Active, National Guard and Army Reserve installations in the 22 western united States including Alaska. A MEDCOM asset, USACHPPM-West is a subordinate command of the U.S. Army Center for Health Promotion and Preventive Medicine whose headquarters is in Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

The military and civilian personnel assigned to USACHPPM-West are organized into four technical divisions that provide support across a wide range of preventive medicine and public health disciplines.

The Environmental Health Engineering Division provides environmental engineering support to installations and units which includes sanitary evaluation of garrison and field potable water supplies; pollution prevention surveys and training; evaluation of hazardous and regulated medical waste management practices; air pollution assessment and environmental noise evaluation.

The role of the Entomological Sciences division is to maximize the Army's ability to protect soldiers and their families from the health threat posed by vector-borne diseases and medically important pests. ESD provides pest management field services, pesticide resistance evaluations, identification of medically important pests, pesticide resistance studies and genetic testing for vector-borne diseases such as Lyme Disease, Ehrlichiosis and Hantavirus.

The Industrial Hygiene Division provides support to identify, evaluate and control worker exposure to hazardous chemical, biological, and physical agents on the job. Services include field surveys to identify or measure actual or potential hazards to workers, recommendation of appropriate engineering controls and/or personal protective equipment, and identification of soldiers and civilian personnel who may require medical surveillance to ensure their health and well being.

Soldiers trained to assist deployable forces meet the threat from disease and non-battle injury and exercise their force health protection responsibility staff the Field Preventive Medicine Division. Services include provision of medical intelligence; training and evaluation assistance to active and Reserve Component preventive medicine units; review of operational plans; and development of tactical standard operating procedures to assist units in the execution of their mission once deployed.

Military Airlift Command flights are available from McChord AFB for active duty soldiers and eligible Reserve Component soldiers. For recorded information on the next day's flights, call 984-2657. For more detailed information, call 984-5327. Class A or B uniforms are required for all MAC flights.

Driver's licenses

While stationed at Fort Lewis, soldiers must possess a valid driver's license. Soldiers who are Washington state residents or claim Washington state as home-of-record must possess a Washington state driver's license. Soldiers may possess a valid driver's license from any state, including their home-of-record state or territory. Territory licenses acceptable in Washington are those from Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Some states have "moratorium" laws. If you had a valid license when you entered the service, it may continue to be valid as long as you are on active duty. Check with your state to make sure this provision applies to you. When your license is due to expire, or if it has already expired, write or call your issuing State Department of Licensing to notify them that you are in the military and are currently stationed out of state. They will explain the state requirements to keep your license valid. Don't assume the military clause is automatic. There are no automatic military extensions for any territory license.

Spouses of soldiers assigned to Fort Lewis who will have children enrolled in the public school system, or who will be receiving public assistance (i.e., food stamps), or wish to apply for in-state tuition fees must apply for a Washington state driver's license within 30 days of arrival. You are considered a Washington resident when you establish a home in the state, register to vote, receive state benefits, apply for any state license or seek in-state tuition fees.

The Department of Licensing has more than 60 offices throughout Washington where drivers are tested and new licenses are issued. Check your phone book under "Licensing, Department of" for the one nearest you. Washington driver's licenses, renewable every four years, are $14. For your first Washington license there is an additional $7 examination fee. There are additional fees and examinations for motorcycle endorsements and commercial driver's licenses

License plates

Upon arrival in Washington state, soldiers are allowed to keep the state license plate that is currently displayed on their vehicle. This includes license plates from U.S. territories. Upon expiration of that license plate, the soldier must obtain a Washington state or home-of-record license plate. Vehicles with USAREUR, NATO, or USA registration/plates have 30 days (Fort Lewis policy) to obtain either Washington or home-of-record plates.

Washington has a staggered licensing system: plates are valid 12 months from the date of purchase. If your vehicle is being licensed in Washington for the first time, the State Patrol must verify the Vehicle Identification Number before you can buy plates. There is a $15 VIN verification fee. The nearest Washington State Patrol offices are located at 38th Street and South Puget Sound, Tacoma (593-2425), and at 2502 112th Street East, Tacoma (536-6221). Others are located at 15012 Meridian East #6, Puvallup (841-0245). 5442 South Tacoma Way, Tacoma (475-4112), 12166 Pacific Avenue, Tacoma (537-3112), and 6722 19th West, University Place (566-5732). The office of the Pierce County Auditor will be glad to answer any questions about vehicle registration. They are located at 2401 S. 35th Street, Tacoma (591-7547). For 24-hour information. call 474-6270.

You can purchase plates in Pierce, Thurston or King counties. Private companies authorized by the state to issue license plates can be found in the Military Buyer's Guide Section. The closest location to Fort Lewis is 12500 Bridgeport Way S.W., Tacoma. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and the first and last Saturday of the month from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The phone number to this licensing agent is (253) 588-7786.

When purchasing Washington state license plates, you can submit a Washington State Form L, an affidavit that you are a military nonresident. Form L exempts you from excise tax, but you may have to pay other taxes if you register you car in Washington. These are known as either a "sales tax" or "use tax," depending on how long you have owned your car.

The local 8.1 - 8.4 percent sales tax is paid on purchases of any nature. This tax is levied on the full price of both new and used cars purchased in the state.

To avoid this sales tax, register your car in your home state and get license plates before you take the car from the dealer.

There is a use tax that applies to new or used vehicles purchased and brought in from outside of Washington. This is also 8.1 - 8.4 percent and is applied instead of sales tax. To avoid this, register the car in your home-of-record state at the time of purchase.

State Ferries

Washington has one of the country's largest and most scenic ferry systems, with more than 30 craft on Puget Sound, the Strait of Juan de Fuca and the Columbia River. The ferry system offers an inexpensive way to see the Sound from one-day trips to a weekend or longer excursions. Cruise through the San Juan Islands, a group of more than 170 islands dotting northern Puget Sound, or travel up to Canada. For schedules, rates and travel ideas, stop by the Leisure Travel Center on post, call toll-free 1-800-843-3779, or write: Washington State Ferries, 801 Alaska Way, Coleman Dock, Seattle, WA, 98104-1487.

Drinking and Driving

Washington has some of the country's toughest drinking and driving laws — and they are enforced on and off post. The severity of punishment for a driving while impaired (DWI) conviction depends on your blood alcohol concentration (BAC) level; whether you've had other DWI convictions (anywhere); and your age.

For a first conviction, you'll be jailed for one day to one year, face a fine and assessments of $625 to $8,125, and lose your civilian/state driving privilege/license for 90 to 365 days. A second conviction results in 30 to 365 days in jail, a fine and assessments of $925 to $8,125, and loss of your civilian driving privilege/license for 2 years to 900 days. You'll also attend remedial education and be evaluated for possible court-mandated rehabilitation/treatment

For those 21 or older, the presumed BAC level for DWI in Washington is .10. For an average-sized person, that's equal to drinking four or fewer drinks in an hour. Police officers will normally cite for DWI an individual whose driving appears impaired — regardless of the BAC level.

For those under 21, a BAC of .02 (which can result from as little as five ounces of beer) or above will result in an administrative suspension of the individual's state driving privilege for 90 days on a first offense. For a second offense, the suspension is for the longer of one year or until reaching the age of 21. Additionally, the driver may also be charged with DWI.

Regardless of court action, age or rank, soldiers involved in a DWI also receive a formal General Officer reprimand and lose on-post driving privileges (meaning they legally can't drive on post) for a year.

Given the above, the responsible choice is DRIVE SOBER — or GET OTHER TRANSPORTATION — and insist that fellow soldiers, family members and friends abide by that same choice.

Post Registration

You must register your vehicles on post within five days of arrival. The registration building is located in Bldg. 2140. Call 967-7668 for hours of operation.

You'll need the vehicle registration, a valid driver's license, a military ID and proof of accident liability insurance in the minimum amount, 25-50-10 ($25,000 bodily injury per person, $50,000 bodily injury per accident and $10,000 property damage). Washington state requires liability insurance for all vehicles registered in the state.

Fort Lewis is located within an area subject to air pollution controls. All motor vehicles registered on the installation must undergo a Washington state certified emission system inspection once every two years regardless of the state or county in which the vehicle is registered. For information regarding emission system inspection locations and cost, call 1-800-272-3780.

Motorcycle Requirements

Motorcycle drivers must have a motorcycle endorsement on their driver's license. If their current driver's license does not have the motorcycle endorsement, the service member must either apply and test for a Washington state driver's license with motorcycle endorsement or return to their driver's license issuing state to have the motorcycle endorsement added.

Washington state will not place a motorcycle endorsement on a driver's license issued from another state.

Fort Lewis requires motorcycle operators to complete a certified safety course prior to registering their motorcycle on the installation.

Driving Regulations

The speed limit on Fort Lewis is 25 mph, unless posted otherwise. When passing troops, it is 10 mph. In family housing areas the limit is 20 mph. Washington state law and post regulations require the use of seatbelts at all times while riding in a car. Children under age 4 or less than 40 pounds must be restrained in an approved child safety seat. This provision is strictly enforced at Fort Lewis.

Bicycle Registration

A bicyclist is required to comply with the same safe driving rules as motorists. In addition, bicyclists must:

- Keep to the extreme side of the roadway.
- Carry no more passengers than there are seats available.
- Keep at least one hand on the handlebars at all times.
- Have headlights and taillights or reflectors.
- Have adequate brakes.
- Never perform stunts on the streets or highways.
- Secure bicycles when not in use.

The Provost Marshal also strongly recommends that all bicycles be registered at the Vehicle Registration Office and that all riders use bicycle helmets.

.... Housing

Basic Allowance for Housing

If you receive BAH, you should report to the Housing Office in Bldg. 2150 as soon as you sign in for duty. If eligible, you can be placed on the waiting list for on post housing. The date you left your last duty station normally determines your place on the list. If you are not eligible for government quarters, the housing office can help you find suitable off post housing.

Temporary Housing

Families may stay in temporary housing such as the Fort Lewis Lodge (guest house), while waiting for on post housing or locating housing off post. If guest house facilities are full, arrangements can be made by the desk clerk for local hotels at a reduced rate.

The 149-room lodge is located near the Post Exchange, Commissary, library, bank, credit union and many other facilities. It has a small playground and plenty of parking. Additional guest house facilities, six cabins, are located on Main Post and controlled by the Lodge. Reservations for PCS and TDY personnel can be made by writing Fort Lewis Lodge, P.O. Box 33085, Fort Lewis, WA 98433-0085, or call commercial (253) 964-0211, 967-2815 or DSN: 357-5051. Rates for the guest house depend on the grade of the primary occupant. Additional occupants are charged $3 per day.

Off-post Housing

The Military Relocation Center, located in Bldg. 2150, keeps a list of available apartments and houses for sale or rent. The service, available to both soldiers and Department of the Army civilians, also provides maps and booklets about the local area.

Generally, the price range for rental housing, not including utilities, is from $565 to $750 for two-bedroom units and $725 to $1400 for three-bedroom units. Hard-to-find four-bedroom units are $950 and up. Rates for furnished housing tend to approach the high figures given. Furnished private housing, especially with two or more bedrooms, is limited.

For more information call 967-5334 or 967-5354.

Utility Deposits

Soldiers may find it a good idea to check into the "Save Money and Renew Trust" (SMART) Deposit Club.

The SMART Club was started to help soldiers offset the cost of setting up house in the area by waiving utility deposits. Here's how it works:

After you find a place to live and get the utilities deposit requirement, you can pay $5 to join the Fort Lewis Federal Credit Union. Then, join the SMART Club by paying a commitment fee of five percent of the amount to be waived. The Army Emergency Relief Fund can help with set-up fees. This money will be used to create a pool of funds covering contingencies such as members separating or transferring early.

The next step is to set up an allotment for 10 percent of the waived amount to a personal savings account, in which you pledge to guarantee the deposits. The allotment starts one to three months after a soldier's arrival. Soldiers who cannot start an allotment may make other arrangements for making deposits into the account.

The credit union then gives you a certificate for each deposit waived, which you either take to the respective utility company or mail with the first payment. The utility waives the deposit, starts service, and you're "good to go."

Once you have a one-year good payment record with the utilities, they will return your certificates. You can present the certificate to the credit union to free your account to withdraw or continue, as you choose. You may also obtain from the utilities a "good credit" letter, which you can use to secure deposit waivers when you're assigned to another installation.

For more information on the SMART Club, contact the Fort Lewis Federal Credit Union, Bldg. 2201 at 12th and Pendleton, phone 967-6685 or 5381.

On-post Housing

There are 3,590 family quarters at Fort Lewis. Stoves, refrigerators and, in some areas, dishwashers and disposals are furnished.

Fort Lewis quarters are all located in 11 housing subdivisions.

Community Life

A good way to get acquainted with the community when a family first moves on post, is to make contact with the mayor of the housing area and find out about the neighborhood council. The council is a way family members can make a difference in their own quality of life.

The mayor represents his or her community at regular meetings with post officials, and reports on activities and problems. This gives the command a direct communication link to concerns and opinions of family members.

Welcome committees, area newsletters, children's Christmas, Easter and Halloween events. Neighborhood Watch and family recreation are sponsored through the all-volunteer Community Life program.

The Community Life Program promotes the active involvement of Army families in improving the quality of post life and fostering a strong sense of community. The housing areas on post have 10 volunteer mayors. The mayors act as a means through which residents can implement positive programs and have input on post policies.

To find out what is happening in your housing area, to meet your mayor or to volunteer, call the Installation Volunteer Coordinator at 967-2324.

Pets

If you move into on-post housing, pets must be registered at the Veterinary Clinic within five working days. No more than two pets are allowed per family unit.

Pet immunizations are available at the Veterinary Clinic by appointment only. For more information, call 967-3988.

Weapons Registration

All privately owned weapons, to include rifles, shotguns, handguns, and antique firearms, will be registered within three days after arriving at Fort Lewis. To register your weapons with the Fort Lewis Provost Marshal, you must report to the Vehicle Registration Office to obtain a registration card. Your unit commander must sign this card for all E-6s and below. Do not bring the actual weapon/weapons to Waller Hall for registration.

Once you return the card to the registration office, various checks will be conducted to ensure you are legally in possession of the firearms. You can return to the registration office in seven to 10 working days to pick up your approved weapons registration card.

Self-help Center

The self-help center is available to everyone living on post. Small maintenance items such as sink strainer baskets, and light and switch covers are available at the center. Tools can also be signed out. Orientation and registration of selfhelp is held each Tuesday at 9 a.m. Store is open Tues-Fri noon-4:45 p.m. and Sat 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The center is located in Bldg. 7910 on North Fort. For more information, call 967-3667.

Shopping Services

The Fort Lewis Shopping Mall provides customers the convenience of one-stop shopping at a new main PX.

In addition to the main store, the mall houses a garden shop, food court and optometry shop. Four bubble-type shops house a variety of concessions on a rotating basis.

The mini mall contains a pharmacy, furniture store, clothing sales, class six store, shoe repair, Chicken Loft, Blimpie, Pizza Hut and several other AAFES concession shops under one roof.

Other facilities are at convenient locations around Main Post. They include a shoe repair shop, 24-hour shoppette, radio and television servicing, equipment rental shop, laundry and dry-cleaners, washer/dryer rental shop, and the world's largest free-standing Burger King.

There is also a vehicle repair garage, auto parts store, car and RV rental service, car wash and four gas stations.

The Northwest Area Exchange provides merchandise and services at a reasonable cost. Facilities are available to all active duty soldiers, retirees, their family members and reservists. Food facilities are available to everyone, military or civilian. Hours of operation are Monday through Saturday 9 a.m.-9 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m.-7 p.m.

Commissary

The Fort Lewis Commissary opened in November 1986, and is a modern, state-of-the-art store. In addition to the large grocery, meat and produce departments, it features a bakery, deli, fresh fish area and plant section.

Over 3,000 customers shop at the 40,000-square-foot store each day. Its annual sales of nearly $63 million consistently place it in the top five of all Defense Commissary Agency stores worldwide. Because its nearly 14,000 products are sold at cost plus a 5 percent surcharge, the commissary patrons regularly save more than 25 percent on their grocery bills. This makes the commissary one of the most valuable benefits.

The commissary, located between Pendleton and Nevada Avenues, is

The store opens daily at 9 a.m. Closing times are Sunday at 5 p.m.; Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7 p.m.; Friday at 8 p.m.; and Saturday at 6 p.m.

Thrift Shop

The Thrift Shop is a non-profit organization serving the military community by providing authorized active and retired military personnel and their families a means for consignment sales of used personal and household property for sale to members of the military community and the general public. Resulting profits are disbursed to post charities, post activities of a community or military nature and military service-related welfare and charity organizations that benefit the Fort Lewis retired, active duty service personnel and their families.

Located in Bldg. 5170 Utah Avenue (964-5401), the Thrift Shop accepts clothing, furniture, household items, books, toys and other items for sale on consignment or as donations. All items must be clean and in good working order.

The shop is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and the first Saturday of each month from 10 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Consignments are taken from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday.

Volunteers provide the backbone of the work force. If you are interested in volunteering, call the consignments supervisor at 964-5401.

Banking Services

Banking services are available at the Fort Lewis Branch of the Armed Forces Bank. Walk-in hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturdays. A drive-through window behind the bank is open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Phone 1-888-920-2265.

The Fort Lewis Community Federal Credit Union, across the street from the Armed Forces Bank, is open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. weekdays. Membership is open to soldiers and Fort Lewis employees upon purchase of shares and payment of a membership fee. For more information call 964-3113.

Legal Services

The Staff Judge Advocate is located in Bldg. 2027A, on the corner of Liggett Avenue and North 8th Street.

The Legal Assistance Office provides confidential legal services to soldiers, retirees and their family members. Legal assistance attorneys provide advice on divorce, separation, child support, child custody, wills, powers of attorney, landlordtenant issues, debt collection, military administrative matters such as OER/NCOER appeals, reports of survey, bars to reenlistment and other personal legal matters. Powers of attorney and notary services are available Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on a walk-in basis. All other services are provided on a walk-in basis Monday through Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. There is also a sameday will clinic on the 1st and 3rd Thursday afternoons of each month from 12:24 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Services are available twice a month for retirees on certain Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and two Saturdays a month. For further information call 966-7526.

The Claims Office is open for customer service Monday, 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Tuesday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Thursday,

1 to 3:30 p.m., and Friday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Claims Office handles tort claims, Article 139 claims, personal property claims and various other types of claims. Anyone who has damaged or missing items from a government contracted move must turn in a completed DD Form 1840/ 1840R, Notice of Loss or Damage, to the Claims Office within 70 days of delivery. Failure to notify the Claims Office within 70 days of delivery may reduce the claim by the amount the office could have recovered from the carrier, sometimes costing the claimant the entire amount claimed. Don't delay with vour DD Form 1840/1840R. For more information or assistance, call 967-0704.

The Trial Defense Service (TDS), third floor of Bldg. 2027A, provides counseling and services to active-duty suspects of a crime pending non-judicial punishment, administrative separation and courts-martial. Hours of operation are from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The emergency on-call TDS duty officer is available 24 hours a day. Article 15 and administrative separation counseling is done on an appointment basis only. Appointments can be made by calling 967-0707. Suspects are seen on a walk-in basis.

The Fort Lewis branch of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington, or Magistrate's Court, is on the second floor, Room C-222. Bldg. 2027C. The office adjudicates both military and civilian on-post traffic offenses and all on-post non-felony criminal cases involving non-military persons. All court hearings are held in U.S. District Court, downtown Tacoma. For information, call 967-0711

Employment

The more than 5,000 Fort Lewis civilian employees provide valuable support in many occupations, from physicians to heavy-mobile-equipment mechanics.

Most civil service employees at Fort Lewis work for I Corps and Fort Lewis or Madigan Army Medical Center and are hired through the Fort Lewis Civilian Personnel Advisory Center (CPAC). This office also provides services to many other Army organizations on post.

A listing of all CPAC Appropriated Fund (AF) and Nonappropriated Fund (NAF) job openings is updated weekly on a 24-hour recorded message, at 967-5377 (WORKERS). You may also visit the CPAC to obtain additional information about positions listed on the recording, obtain application information forms or receive other assistance. The CPAC is located in Bldg. 2015B. The Information Office is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., or phone 967-5091.

Employment information, to include complete job announcements, is also available on the Fort Lewis CPAC web site at http://www.lewis.army.mil/units/cp o/cpoweb home page.htm. Additionally, information is also available on post about employment with the Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES). AAFES employees work in the Post Exchange (PX) at Fort Lewis and Base Exchange (BX) at McChord AFB, military clothing sales store, theaters and snack bars. Applications for these NAF positions are accepted at the separate AAFES Personnel Office in Bldg. 9503, Room 208 between 8:30 a.m. and noon, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The phone number is 964-2522.

Civilian employees are offered a variety of services at Fort Lewis, such as use of most Community Recreation Division activities including libraries, gyms, swimming pools, recreation centers, equipment rental center and more. Memberships in the Officers' Club and NCO Club are available, as well as the Fort Lewis Community Federal Credit Union. Civilian employment does not authorize use of the PX or commissary.

Army Career and Alumni Program

The Army Career and Alumni Program (ACAP) provides comprehensive transition assistance planning and job search skill training to separating active duty military, Department of the Army civilians and their adult family members. Eligibility for ACAP services begins 180 days before beginning transition leave for regular separations and up to one year prior for retirees. ACAP services are also available for 90 days after completing active duty. Spouses are strongly encouraged to participate in ACAP activities along with their transitioning sponsor.

The ACAP Center begins the transition process by providing individual transition counseling, preparation of the pre-separation counseling checklist, DD Form 2648, and referral to subject area specialists, at on-post and off-post service providers who can address each transitioners specific needs as they prepare to depart the military. The ACAP Center conducts preseparation classes daily and coordinates attendance at the three-day Job Search Skill and Veteran Benefits Workshop, which is conducted weekly.

ACAP, through its combination of federal, state and contracted services, offers an extensive package of resources for transitioners. ACAP is not a job placement service, but it provides extensive job-search skills training, individual counseling, mini-employment fairs, one-stop job-hunting assistance and access to DOD transition services such as Defense Outplacement Referral Service (DORS), Public and Community Services Registry (PACS), and the Transition Bulletin Board (TBB). ACAP also offers it's own Hot Leads program, located on the ACAP World Wide Web page.

The Fort Lewis ACAP Center is located in Bldgs. T-5210, 5211 and 5212 at the corner of North 12th Street and Nevada/Utah Avenues. The telephone number is 967-3250.

Education Services Office

Army Continuing Education Services (ACES) enriches the quality of life in the military community by making programs and services available to soldiers, families and civilians. ACES offers many different educational programs.

David L. Stone Education Center, located in Bldg. 6242, Colorado Ave., is engineered to accommodate state-of-the-art instructional technology. It includes 26 classrooms, a science lab, a 175-seat auditorium, computer labs, technical academic resource center, academic learning center, bookstore, espresso stand and a college mall for post-secondary institutions. Currently there are five schools providing classes at the Stone Education Center. This center is the "Education Center of the 21st Century," ready to meet the needs of soldiers now and into the future.

Education Advising is an integral part of an individual's educational endeavors. Professional advisors provide a full range of adult and continuing education advising. Advisors can assist in individual program design, career clarification and development and all other programs and services.

Advising is available on a walk-in basis.

Education is the key to success and confidence.

Functional Academic Skills Training (FAST) offers individualized instruction in reading, math and language skills. Enrollment is on a daily walk-in basis and is provided at no cost to soldiers.

High School Completion Program allows students to earn credits toward a high school diploma or prepare for the General Education Development (GED) examination.

Testing Service is available on a fee-paid basis to family members, including CLEP, DANTES, Subject Standardization Tests and Strong Interest Inventory. Most tests are available at no cost to soldiers. Additional information on other tests can be obtained from the ACES education advisors.

The Technical Academic Resource Center (TARC) is a hightech computer center located at the David L. Stone Education Center. Its purpose is to provide a study area where family members, civilians, college students, soldiers and others in the community can use computers to improve education skills or complete work related projects. The TARC serves more than 70,000 customers annually and offers a variety of computer courses to meet the needs of the Fort Lewis community. Networked on a Windows-NT server, the TARC lab currently has 58 Pentium computers loaded with Microsoft applications, printers and scanners. There are self-paced tutorials available for all the Microsoft applications. Staff is available during the hours of operation to provide assistance.

The TARC also includes three computer classrooms used for computer training, where colleges teach computer academic courses. Units can arrange for classes on Windows, DOS and all of the Microsoft Office Pro applications, for a small fee. Groups on post that have their own instructor can reserve computer classrooms for their needs. The TARC offers free workshops each month which are open to family members, retirees and Fort Lewis civilian personnel. The workshops are introductory in nature and topics include: Windows, Office 97 applications, Intro to Computers, the Internet and E-mail. For more information, call 967-2178.

TARC is open Monday through Thursday 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., Friday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturday 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Five colleges and universities offer undergraduate and graduate level instruction at Fort Lewis.

- Chapman University: Master degrees.
- Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University: Associate's and Bachelor's degrees.
- Pierce College: Associate's degrees.
 - Saint Martin's College: Associate's, Bachelor's, Master degrees, and a post baccalaureate secondary teaching certification program.

Local Schools

The Department of the Army requires all soldiers with school age children to notify their children's school upon reassignment instructions. Parents are encouraged when moving to maintain copies of their students records, transcripts, immunization records, IEP evaluations, any special educational needs documentation, GPA interpretations with course descriptions, birth certificates and synopsis of assessment reports. This information will ensure a smooth move to the new school. Most Fort Lewis students are served by the Clover Park School District, North Thurston School District and Bethel School District. Private and parochial schools are also available in nearby communities. Five elementary schools are on post and Tillicum Elementary School (off post) serves MAMC and part of Fort Lewis. Children must have reached their fifth birthday by August 31 to enter kindergarten and must be six years old by August 31 to enter first grade.

Senior high and middle school students living on post attend school off post at Lakes High School, Clover Park High School, Woodbrook Middle School and Mann Middle School. Contact the Clover Parks School District Transportation Office for families residing on post for pick and drop off points at 589-7566.

If you have questions, contact the Schools Liaison Office, Waller Hall Welcome and Farewell Center, Room 105, at 967-7195. K-12 school related information available for transitioning soldiers via the internet at www.mrin.com or www.famnet.com. Check out the information concerning the Military Child Education Coalition at www.military.child.org.

Child Development Services

Child Development Services (CDS) consists of three systems: a center-based system, home-based system and supplemental programs and services.

Three child development centers are located on post. They are expertly staffed, well equipped and operated according to the highest standards. Extended daily and weekly operating hours are available to address the fullday, part-day and hourly child care requirements of Army families.

A home-based system of family child care (FCC) homes is also available. FCC is in-home care provided by a certified adult family member occupying authorized government quarters. Home-based services are responsive to the needs of individual families and children due to informal family-style characteristics. FCC homes may be more appropriate for infants needing small group care and for school-age children who require care in a neighborhood setting. Quarters settings also offer alternative care options for children with special needs. All children using a CDS program must be registered prior to starting care in either a child development center or a family child care home. Call the Supplemental Programs and Services office at 967-2494 for resource and referral information or to make a registration appointment.

Chapels

Several post chapels offer weekly and, in some cases, daily religious activities. Religious education is provided for all ages.

Several chapels offer Protestant Sunday School. Call 967-4849 for information.

Catholic Continuing Christian Development (CCD) instruction is taught at the Main Post Chapel. Jewish services, education and social programs are held in Chapel No. 5.

Opportunities for participation are offered through choirs and other activities. Several Protestant, Catholic and Jewish groups, including Protestant Women of the Chapel and the Catholic Ladies' Guild, meet weekly. Free child care is provided during most services and activities at the Post Chapel and several unit chapels. To volunteer for chapel activities, call the Main Post Chapel at 967-4849.

Fort Lewis chaplains operate two special programs: the Family Life Center and an ongoing crisis intervention ministry.

A marriage preparation course is every month from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Family Life Center, located at the Four Chaplains Memorial Chapel. Call 967-1723 for more information. A certificate of completion from the course is usually required for marriage by a military chaplain.

If you do not have a unit chaplain, call 967-3126 or 3127.

For emergency assistance or counseling after duty hours call the on-call duty chaplain at 967-0015.

American Red Cross provides a number of services to soldiers and their immediate family members. These services which include: emergency communication; verification of emergency leave and access to financial assistance. Red Cross is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week by calling 1-877-272-7337. In the event of an emergency, illness, critical accident, death, birth of a new child in a servicemember's family, or the family's request for the servicemembers presence, your Red Cross should be notified immediately. Through our advanced Armed Forces Emergency Services Center, the servicemember can be reached and given this information anywhere in the world. Once the servicemember is notified, it is then up to military authorities to decide whether or not to grant leave. American Red Cross works with other organizations here on Fort Lewis such as Army Emergency Relief in providing emergency funding for servicemembers and their families; Family Resource Center; newcomer and unit deployment briefings. Your Red Cross is located in Waller Hall.

Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, telephone number 253-967-7686.

Army Community Service

Army Community Service is an Army-wide program designed specifically to assist soldiers, retirees and their families in coping with a broad range of problems. Some ACS services are available to civilian employees and their family members. ACS provides information, assistance and guidance to members of the Army community in coping with personal and family problems beyond the scope of their own resources. In addition, ACS offers a single, easily accessible office for those who need help or wish to discuss their problems confidentially. A follow-up visit is scheduled to ensure appropriate services were provided and the problem successfully resolved. The Fort Lewis ACS is located in the new Waller Hall Welcome Center, Bldg. 2140. The office is open 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Assistance Emergency Travel begins at 7:30 a.m. For updated information regarding ACS programs, access the ACS web page at www.lewis.army.mil/community/dpca/fsd/acs. ACS services include the following:

Information and referral services in ACS provide needed referrals to other military and civilian agencies.

ACS Financial Readiness Program assistance is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Qualified counselors will help establish a budget, or help those with severe indebtedness to enroll in local debt reduction programs. They also provide investment, tax and consumer information and help with consumer complaints. A counselor from Consumer Credit Counseling Service can advise and assist soldiers in restructuring debt payments.

The Relocation Readiness Program office welcomes newly assigned soldiers and family members to Fort Lewis and assists with all aspects of relocating to the new duty assignment. Individual relocation counseling is available for both in and out-bound personnel. Stop by ACS or call 967-3607 for the Fort Lewis Welcome Packet or a SITES printout.

The center also provides assistance to foreign-born spouses by offering information on English as Second Language classes. Limited immigration and naturalization services are also available. Stop by ACS to obtain a copy of the SITES booklet for the next duty assignment.

You can also obtain a 30-day loan of household items from our Loan Closet. You will need a copy of your orders and, if you are unable to come to the Loan Closet, your spouse can pick up the household items with a copy of your orders.

The RRP provides assistance to military personnel and family members who will be moving to the Fort Lewis/Tacoma communities and those relocating to other military installations. Computerized information (SITES) from all active military installations, a worldwide resource library, PCS videotapes of various overseas installations and trip mapping services (automap) within CONUS are provided upon request.

During inprocessing at the 525th Replacement Company, you will be required to attend the Newcomer's Orientation. You will receive a briefing on all the services available at Fort Lewis. Spouses are highly encouraged to attend and most welcome. Free child care is provided on-site and attendees are provided a free lunch. The orientation is followed by a guided bus tour of the installation.

Family Services has professional counselors to assist with emergency situations, help resolve personal issues and to make community referrals. Other services include short-term counseling, emergency food locker assistance, waiting family support group, assistance to exceptional family members, information on foster care and/or adoption and public assistance.

Army Emergency Relief provides emergency financial assistance in the form of interest-free loans and grants to soldiers, retirees and their families. Active duty soldiers must apply for help on DA Form 1103 through their unit commander.

AER also provides educational assistance for family members of active duty, retired or deceased soldiers. Loans and scholarships are available.

A Waiting Families Support Group assists families whose sponsors are on extended TDY or unaccompanied tours overseas. The primary function is to help families find solutions to their problems. The WFSG also provides them an opportunity to meet others in similar circumstances and provide support for the unique problems involved in this type of military tour.

Installation Volunteer Coordinator. There are many opportunities to volunteer and share your talents. Contact the IVCs office for assistance. The IVC office keeps a listing of all volunteer jobs on post. The office tracks volunteers, monthly hours and conducts annual post wide recognition. For more information call the IVC at 967-2324.

The Soldier and Family Readiness Program, formerly known as Family Advocacy, is concerned primarily with prevention and reduction of spouse and child abuse. The program has two major components. The SFRP Manager is responsible for the prevention program, which includes education classes and community awareness programs. Social Work Service provides treatment services at Madigan Army Medical Center. The overall program ensures coordination between ACS, SWS and many other components in the community. The program monitors the prevention, identification, reporting, investigation and treatment of spouse and child abuse.

on healthy families and programs that help parents develop positive parenting skills. The classes provide various aspects of ages and stages in child growth and development and skills that prevent child abuse. Supplementary classes focus on healthy relationships for soldiers and their spouses that develop coping skills to prevent spouse abuse. They include classes on anger management and stress management. These classes are open to all eligible personnel. SFRP provides required annual prevention training to all units and soldiers at

The ACS SFRP classes focus

Fort Lewis. The program has launched a joint effort between the hospital and the installation. The program, Preventive Intervention Program (PIP) works with individuals and couples to prevent abuse before it becomes an incident. PIP is a model program for the Army.

The New Parent Support Program is a professional team of social workers and registered nurses who provide in-home parenting support and education services to Fort Lewis families with children ages six years and under free of charge.

The New Parent Support Program helps parents learn to cope with stress, isolation, post-deployment reunions and everyday demands of parenthood.

Home visiting services offer parents the opportunity to improve their skills as parents and to learn some new skills that might work even better. There are often many questions about children's needs and what to do. The New Parent Support Program is a reliable source for answers to parent's questions.

For more information about the program, call 967-7409 or visit Bldg. 5218.

The Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) provides referral services for educational, housing, community and military services for families with special needs. Early enrollment in the EFMP is the soldier's guarantee that the Army military personnel will do its best to match the soldier's grade and specialty with a location where the exceptional family member's needs can be met. Information about EFMP enrollment is not given to selection boards. EFMP enrollment does not adversely affect a soldier's selection for promotion, schools or assignment.

Fort Lewis has supported Special Olympics for over 26 years. More than 2,000 athletes participate in Washington Special Olympics (WSO) annually. WSO continues to be a success due to over 1,000 participating volunteers every year.

Employment Readiness Program helps adult family members prepare resumes, locate local jobs and enter the job market. Services are available to all eligible personnel except active duty soldiers. Active duty soldiers are required to utilize the Army Career and Alumni Program transition services located in Bldg. 5210. Services are also available to family members of DOD civilians on a space-available basis.

The ERP maintains listings of local job openings. These lists include federal, state, county, and local job vacancies. Employment opportunities range from temporary, part-time, to permanent full-time positions. Job announcements are updated daily. Assistance is provided to those who want to volunteer their services in order to gain additional work experience.

Computers are available for family members registered with the ERP. The program has a full-time coordinator available to provide advice and assistance on preparation of applications, resumes and cover letters. Appointments can be made by calling 967-3538.

Family Resource Center

The Family Resource Center opened in Bldg. 4274 on April 11, 1996 to serve as the operations/ synchronization center that ties

Family Support Group (FSG) requirements to garrison support functions. The FRC provides commanders, FSG leaders and members education /training, assistance, support and resources. The facility has meeting spaces for family support group meetings, projects and briefings. There is a self-help automated production center with staff technical assistance for development of FSG unit newsletters.

The Family Resource Center is located on the corner of 9th Division and Idaho Street and can be reached at 967-9496.

Madigan Army Medical Center

Madigan Army Medical Center (MAMC), located just a few minutes north of the Main Post, gives priority medical care to the nearly 19,000 soldiers on Fort Lewis and 6,000 active-duty members on McChord Air Force Base. MAMC also provides care to 76,000 retirees and their family members. The medical center, staffed by over 3,000 medical, dental, nursing and administrative personnel, examines and treats nearly 800,000 outpatients each year.

The 120-acre site is the largest military hospital on the West Coast. Madigan has an average daily inpatient census of about 130. The new medical center has 172 beds for inpatient use, and can expand to accommodate 622 patients during medical emergencies.

Outpatients are seen in the hospital's medical mall complex. Madigan's ambulatory patient-care service is one of the busiest in the country. Each day, some 30 surgeries are performed, 4,000 laboratory procedures are completed, 3,000 prescriptions are filled, 500 X-rays are made and six babies are delivered.

Madigan also oversees the operation of troop medical clinics and battalion aid stations on Fort Lewis. Madigan carries regional responsibility for the Medical Activity at Fort Wainwright, Alaska, and health clinics at Umatilla Army Depot in Oregon, and Camp Parks in California.

In 1995, Madigan began operating under the new Department of Defense's health care program called TRICARE. TRICARE is designed to improve access to care for the more than 400,000 military beneficiaries in Madigan's region (Washington and Oregon). Madigan was the first DOD medical facility to contract with a civilian health care organization. As of 1999, all military treatment facilities will be operating under the TRICARE concept.

Under the TRICARE program, active-duty soldiers will continue to receive their care as they have in the past. However, family members of active-duty soldiers are now given the opportunity to select one of three options in obtaining their health care.

TRICARE Prime is the managed care option and is the only option that requires enrollment. Family members who choose to enroll in TRICARE Prime will be assigned to a primary care manager at Madigan or at a civilian contractor, depending on the family's needs.

Beneficiaries who enroll in TRI-CARE Prime and choose to receive their care at Madigan will not pay any fees. However, there are co-payments associated with visits to civilian health care providers.

In 1996, the Department of Defense began a TRICARE demonstration program, TRICARE Remote Prime, and is now a permanent health care program, intended to make accessing health care easier for service members who live and work away from military hospitals and clinics. This program is for active duty service members only. To be eligible for the program, service members must reside 50 miles from a military treatment facility (MTF) and work 50 miles from a MTF. The program is TRICARE Prime for the active duty service member who must enroll into the program and choose a Primary Care Manager (PCM). The program reduces the member's reliance on far away military facilities, by allowing them to obtain care closer to home and/or work. If a service member requires a Fitness for Duty determination, or a medical board, the active duty member will be referred to the closest MTF with the ability to provide the care and make a duty determination. Active duty service members who need additional information on TRICARE Prime Remote, may log on to the web at http://www.tricare.osd.mil/remote/ or call a Region 11 (Madigan's Region) Benefit Services Representative at your nearest TRICARE Service Center, at 1-800-404-2042.

TRICARE Standard is essentially the old Standard CHAMPUS program; the only difference is that the name has changed.

The final option is called TRI-CARE Extra. This option is similar to TRICARE Standard, but with a discount. If you choose a physician from a list of civilian preferred providers, you will receive a 5 % discount. As an added benefit, these providers will file the claim with TRI-CARE for you.

All options can be explained more thoroughly by visiting the TRICARE Service Center located on the second floor of the Medical Mall at Madigan, or by calling 1-800-404-2042.

Newly assigned soldiers should turn in their health records and their family member's medical records to the Welcome Center at Waller Hall during initial inprocessing to Fort Lewis. Family members, without medical records, can have them established at Madigan Army Medical Center, Main Outpatient Records, located on the 1st floor, Medical Mall, next to the Pharmacy. Medical records are turned into the MAMC system for filing on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Medical records are filed according to the sponsor's social security number. A medical recording card is issued by the TRICARE Service Center and mailed to the family member once enrolled. The TRICARE Service Center is located on the 2nd floor of the Medical Mall.

Army Regulation AR 40-400 requires the presentation of a valid Uniformed Services Identification and Privilege Card each time medical attention is sought at a military facility.

All family members must be enrolled in the Defense Eligibility Enrollment Reporting System (DEERS). Family members over the age of 10 must have an ID card.

The Family Practice Clinic serves TRICARE PRIME enrolled beneficiaries and is located in the Madigan Medical Mall, ground floor. The Family Practice Clinic goal is comprehensive, customer friendly and quality health care with easy access to services. Services offered include: preventive health services, counseling, pre- and post-natal obstetrical care, well-person checkups, outpatient surgical and other procedures, and many other services designed to deliver health care to the entire family.

Applicants may visit the servicing TRICARE Service Center and fill out an application: this is essential for enrollment in TRICARE PRIME. Beneficiaries assigned enrollment at the Family Practice Clinic by TRICARE are encouraged to attend a walk-in Family Practice Orientation held on Tuesday and Thursday from 2:00 to 2:30 p.m. in the Family Practice Administrative area (across from the clinic). A primary care manager/ provider (PCM) is assigned to each TRICARE PRIME-enrolled beneficiary, with the same PCM assigned to family members of a given sponsor.

Family Practice Clinic is organized by "Teams." PCMs and supporting personnel assigned to the teams are each capable of providing exceptional health care. Family Practice Clinic also offers evening clinics from Monday-Thursday as well as inpatient services to Family Practice TRICARE PRIME enrollees. Appointments are made through the TRICARE Regional Appointment Center at 1-800-404-4506 from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Soldier Care Service operates the Consolidated Troop Medical Clinic

(CTMC), Troop Medical Clinic #3 (TMC#3), Troop Medical Clinic #5 (TMC#5), and the Regional Correctional Facility (RCF) clinic. Soldier Care Service also has medical oversight over all other clinics and aid stations on Ft. Lewis. These include clinics and aid stations operated by 1st Brigade/25th ID, 3rd Brigade/2nd ID, 1st Special Forces Group, and the 2/75th Ranger Battalion.

The CTMC is located in MAMC on the ground floor of the Medical Mall. Appointments for non-acute problems as well as physical examinations can be made by calling the TRICARE Appointment Center (TRAC). Soldiers with acute problems will report to sick call from 6:30-7:30 a.m. and must have their ID card and outpatient medical record. At that time the soldier is screened and triaged by a provider to determine if the soldier needs to be shown now (acute), or can wait to be seen (chronic). An appointment will be given to the soldier who is chronic. Sergeants and below also must bring an individual sick slip (DA Form 689) for any type of visit.

The CTMC includes Aviation Medicine, along with limited Physical and Occupational Therapy support. Flight physical examinations can be made by calling 968-4600. Immunizations are given at the CTMC from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. Monday through Friday. Yellow fever immunizations are only given on Fridays. TMC#5 has limited pharmacy, lab, and Physical Therapy support for North Ft. Lewis.

Each unit has an assigned TMC or aid station; soldiers should contact their individual medical treatment facility to obtain specific information on the services provided.

Emergencies and urgent problems are seen in the Emergency Department/ Acute and Minor Illness Clinic. It is the busiest emergency department in the state and treats 200-250 patients per day. Triage personnel interview each patient to identify those who require most urgent attention. These are seen in the Emergency Department. Patients with less serious problems are seen in the Acute and Minor Illness Clinic. Waiting time ranges from 30 minutes to two hours. Evaluation then takes 15 to 30 minutes, longer if laboratory tests or X-rays are required.

In general, the longest waiting times in the ED are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. Weekends and holidays are particularly busy because most other hospital clinics in the area are closed. To remain ready for critically ill and injured patients, the ED is always staffed by four or more doctors. The Acute and Minor Illness Clinic is manned by two physician assistants.

MAMC outpatients have three pharmacies available. The Main Outpatient Pharmacy, located in the Madigan Medical Mall, is open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m and closed on Sunday and holidays.. Active-duty service members in uniform have priority, followed by MAMC-enrolled patients seen by a Madigan provider. All others will follow these.

A Drive-Through Pharmacy, located on the hospital's West End, dispenses prescriptions, which have been refilled through either the callin service or Madigan's refill web page. The hours are from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Fridays. All refills must be called in to the refill call-in service (253) 968-2999) 24 hours in advance. Only refill service is provided at this pharmacy.

The Mini-Mall Pharmacy, is located at the main post PX Mini-Mall complex, and stays open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. This pharmacy is for civilian prescriptions. Active-duty service members in uniform have priority for themselves, followed by civilian prescriptions by any provider, then as space permits we will provide same day refills to MAMC prescriptions.

When visiting any of the pharmacies, patients must have their name written on the prescription by the doctor or stamped with the medical card. To further aid the process, patients should print their address and phone number on the back of the prescriptions. Military ID card must be presented for each patient whose prescription is being picked up, except for children under age 12. For more information, call 968-1963.

No appointment is necessary for the Immunization Clinic. Hours of operation are Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., Fridays, 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. All patients must bring their medical records to the clinic in order to get immunizations. Questions about immunizations for travel should be referred to the Travel Clinic at 968-4499. All

Specialty GYN appointments may be requested by other health care

Appointments to the Obstetrics/Gynecology Clinic may be made by calling the TRICARE service center at 1-800-404-4506. Active-duty sick call is from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday. Only emergency OB patients will be seen on Wednesday between 7:30 and 10:30 a.m. Soldiers are required to report to their assigned medical treatment facility where they will be screened and, if necessary, referred to the OB/GYN department. Referred soldiers must bring their medical records and will be seen on a priority first-serve basis. Children over six months of age are not allowed in the clinic.

Obstetrics patients are identified as soon as pregnancy is confirmed. These patients should use the appointment number to contact TRI-CARE for OB registration and for a "new OB" appointment with a physician provider.

Routine GYN appointments may be made by calling TRICARE.

adult is not a parent, a current Medical Power of Attorney is required.

Appointments for all Pediatric clinics may be made by calling the TRICARE Appointment line at 1-800-404-4506, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. After hours and weekends, call (253) 968-3066 for an appointment. All injuries less than 72 hours old should be seen initially in the Emergency Room.

If you need medical advice an Advice Nurse may be contacted 24-hours a day, seven days a week, by calling 1-800-750-6946. The advice nurse cannot book appointments.

The General Pediatric Outpatient Clinic provides care for children birth to 12 years on an appointment basis from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday. These hours include the evening clinic from 5 to 8 p.m. There is also a weekend clinic on Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and Sundays, 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Evening and weekend clinics are staffed by Spectrum (civilian) providers. For additional information or to confirm clinic hours, a receptionist may be reached during the above hours at (253) 968-3066.

Adolescent Clinic provides comprehensive primary care and Adolescent Medicine for patients 13 through 23 years (if still in dependent child status and enrolled full time in school). When appointments are not available in this clinic for the evaluation of acute onset of illness patients may be able to be seen as a walkin in the Adolescent Clinic with physician approval. Appointments are also available for adolescents in the Evening and Weekend Clinic. For additional information a receptionist may be reached at (253) 968-1980 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Pediatric Subspecialty Clinics are offered in Hematology/Oncology, Nephrology, Pulmonology, Endocrinology, Gastroenterology, Cardiology, and Infectious Disease by consultation or referral. Pediatric Neurology patients are seen in the General Pediatric Clinic and are scheduled through the Adult Neurology Clinic. For additional information regarding these clinics, a receptionist may be reached at (253) 968-1980 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Developmental Pediatric Clinic provides evaluation, treatment, and ongoing subspecialties care for children and adolescents with chronic disabling conditions, either medical or educational. For additional information, a receptionist may be reached at (253) 968-2310 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Well Child Clinic provides health maintenance visits for children less than 48 months of age. Immunizations are given at the time of the visit or during the walk-in immunization hours of 8 to 9 a.m. and 1 to 2 p.m., Monday through Thursday, to children 2 months to 23 years. Walk-in immunizations will not be given unless the child is up-to-date with well child visits. No other children are allowed in the Well Child waiting room or exam rooms except for the child scheduled for the well child appointment. For additional information, a receptionist may be reached at (253) 968-2315 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Social Work Service provides a broad range of professional inpatient and outpatient social work assistance for Madigan patients and families.

The Medical Social Service section assists with discharge planning needs, finding community resources, and helping patients and families cope with medical problems. To contact medical social work, call 968-2303.

The Preventive Intervention Program provides family and marital counseling and education. For more information or to arrange for an assessment, call 968-4161.

The Family Advocacy Section of Social Work Service provides safety planning, counseling and classes for families involved in child and spouse abuse. To report a domestic violence incident or to sign up for classes, call 968-4159.

General information and assistance on Social Work Service can be obtained by calling 968-4184.

Operated by Social Work Service, The Fisher House is available for family members of patients at Madigan Army Medical Center who need a place to stay because they live more than 50 miles away. Placement priority is based on the medical condition of the patient and a waiting list is maintained if a room is not available at that time. During duty hours, 07:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, call the Fisher House Manager at 964-9283. After duty hours, the access point is admissions at 968-1810. One half mile from MAMC, the Fisher House is a comfort home away from home and is located at 9999 Wilson Ave. "Helping Military Families" Fort Lewis Fisher House CFC #9012.

The I Corps and Fort Lewis Command Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Program (ADAPCP) provides assistance to individuals with alcohol and other drug-related problems.

Services are available to active duty and reserve soldiers, retirees, and family members (18 years old and above) of these individuals. Additionally, Fort Lewis employees are afforded services through the ADAPCP Employee Assistance Program for alcohol and drug-related problems as well as work-related stress.

All ADAPCP elements are located in Bldg. 2006A (on Ligget Ave between 2nd and 3rd street) and the staff can be reached at 967-2202. The program is staffed by professionals — risk reduction and prevention specialists, rehabilitation counselors and staff advisors.

The ADAPCP education/prevention staff provides a variety of services including a Resource Library of prevention materials and lesson plans on various topics related to alcohol, tobacco and other drugs. Resource Library materials are available to all valid ID cardholders. A 12-hour Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention Training (ADAPT) remedial education course is provided for personnel referred to it by their commanders or by the courts. The Education Coordinator can be reached at 967-1412.

Biochemical testing to detect alcohol and various other drugs is used as a means of early identification of abusers and as a deterrent to casual and experimental use of drugs. Phone 967-4351.

Outpatient assessment, rehabilitation and referral services are available through the clinical component of the command ADAPCP and related appointments are made at 967-2202.

Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) and its counterparts, AL-ANON (for spouses) and ALA-TEEN (for children of alcoholics) are independent of the ADAPCP, but are available on post and in the surrounding area. Narcotics Anonymous (NA) groups are also available.

For additional information about AA, AL-ANON and ALA-TEEN, call 474-8897 or 847-9951. NA can be reached at 531-8792.

The Preventive Medicine Clinic is located on Ramp 3 of the Madigan Annex in Bldg 9920 A. Hours of operation are 7:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m., Monday-Friday and the phone number is 968-4443. The primary missions are evaluation and management of Blood Bank Referrals, and other Clinical Preventive Services. Walk-in hours for STD evaluation are 7:30 a.m.-11:00 a.m. Monday-Friday, or by appointment. Eligible beneficiaries wishing to stop using tobacco may enroll for classes and receive consideration for medication by calling the TRICARE appointment line at 1-800-404-4506. Units wishing to schedule STD, HIV or Tobacco Prevention Classes may contact the program coordinator at 968-4487.

Army Community Health Nursing helps soldiers and their families develop and maintain positive attitudes toward health, prevent illness and disability and regain maximum health. The service is provided through health teaching, counseling and nursing services to individuals, families, units, in homes, hospital wards and clinics and the work site.

Army Community Health Nursing is located in Bldg. 9912B, Ramp 2 in the old Madigan complex. It is open from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., week-days. For more information, call 968-4382.

The Madigan Tobacco Cessation Program provides training for Fort Lewis units, groups and individuals on tobacco cessation. Tobacco cessation courses are available to all Fort Lewis employees and their families. Eligible beneficiaries can then have access to nicotine re-placement therapy (i.e. gum, patches).

Those who do not have access to military medical facilities will be directed to local sources in the civilian community for the nicotine replacement therapy portion of treatment.

Anyone wishing to stop using tobacco products can call the Tobacco-Free Care Line at 1-800-404-4506 for self-referral to the program. Prevention courses for units, or on-site treatment classes for groups can be scheduled by calling your own health clinic or 1-800-404-4506. Other information handouts and community referrals can also be obtained by calling 968-2623.

The Veterinary Treatment Facility located in Bldg. 9988, old Madigan, offers limited pet care for active duty and retired military personnel. The VTF treats pets for zoonotic and communicable diseases, gives routine vaccinations and issues health certificates for international and interstate travel. Health certificates are also required for child care (FCC) providers.

The VTF is the stray animal holding facility for Fort Lewis and McChord. Unclaimed pets are adopted to new families after three working days. Pets living on post must be registered with the VTF within five working days of arrival. The VTF is a non-appropriated fund activity, with charges payable and due at the time of appointment.

Dogs must be on a leash and cats in a box or carrier. For safety, children under 12 years of age are not permitted in the clinic.

Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Call 967-3988 for appointments and further information. Limited services are also available at McChord AFB VTF, 984-3951

The Fort Lewis Dental Activity consists of five on-post dental clinics, one of which is located at Madigan Army Medical Center (second floor of the Medical Mall). All dental specialties are represented at Fort Lewis. Each clinic has assigned units for which it is responsible. Members of these units can obtain dental care on either an emergency basis, or by scheduling an appointment.

Active-duty personnel can receive emergency care at their assigned dental clinic on a walk-in basis from 7 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., Monday through Friday. For emergency care after duty hours, on weekends or holidays report to the Emergency Room at Madigan Army Medical Center.

Scheduled appointments for active-duty personnel can be obtained by going to or calling their assigned clinic at the following Dental Activity telephone numbers:

Fulton Dental Clinic	967-7141
Dental Clinic #2	967-5271
Dental Clinic #3	967-3416
Dental Clinic #5	967-4989
Hospital Dental Clinic	968-1240

Spouses and children of active-duty service members are eligible to be enrolled in the Family Member Dental Plan. Sponsors must be on active duty for at least 30 days and must intend to remain on active duty for at least 24 months in order to enroll their family members. Enrolled family members may receive dental care from any licensed/authorized dentist in the civilian community. However, family members will get the greatest value from their Family Member Dental Plan coverage if they receive care from a United Concordia Companies, Inc. (UCCI) participating dentist.

Questions regarding dental services offered at Fort Lewis can be answered by calling the Dental Activity Headquarters at 968-4035.

Health Services Auxiliary of Madigan Army Medical Center provides financial assistance and support to MAMC, DENTAC, Veterinary Services and the Fort Lewis community with an emphasis on health services. Membership is available to all officers, active and retired, their spouses, and civilians GS-7 and above. It is the active participation of members that makes HSA an effective support organization. For more information call the HSA President, at 912-8603. ■

Army Travel Camp and Log Cabins. The Travel Camp's 48 newly remodeled sites offer black top pads, sewer, power and cable TV. Newly remodeled commons include laundry and shower facilities. Reservations accepted year round. The 10 log cabins are situated on the shores of American Lake. Each cabin offers a complete kitchen, restroom and shower, linens and towels with daily maid service.

Russell Landing marina is located on the Northwestern side of Beachwood, on American Lake Ave. It offers a year-round wet/dry moorage > based on boat foot length. There is a minimal fee for launching a boat. The tackle and bait shop offers not only live critters and few selected fishing items, but also a large variety of resale products from assorted chips/candies to beverages and ice. It offers motorized boat rentals from party boats to 16 footer aluminum and a joy-ride with our new "mouse boat." Renters must be 18 years of age and a military and or DOD ID cardholder. A boating safety card is a must for renting and can be simultaneously obtained free of charge after a video class. All pavilion reservations and rentals are also being arranged at Russell Landing, including pavilions located at Shoreline Park, old NAC, American Lake and Chamber Lake pavilions. For added convenience, the marina has volleyballs and horseshoes for daily rentals.

All rentals are on a first come first served basis. For reservations and information call 967-2510. The Russell Landing Restaurant also provides quick lunch service Monday through Friday. The facility is also available for private parties. For more information call 966-0400.

Shoreline Park which is located on the west-end of Beachwood Housing on Beach Road is a beautiful seasonal swimming area, provided with lifeguards for safety. It has a beach control snackbar which offers not only conventional food and beverages but also takes care of the fun boat rentals. Fun boats include pedal boats, kayaks and canoes. Boat cards are not required to rent non-motorized boats but a minimum of 14 years of age and military DOD ID card are still a must. Pavilions located at the park are being rented and reserved at the Russell Landing Marina. For reservation and more details call 967-2510.

Northwest Adventure Center, located on NCO Beach Road is a brand new facility. The state of the art facility offers sporting goods, firearms and ammunition, camping and fishing equipment, white water and sea kayaks, as well as a full service scuba diving shop and instruction. A complete outdoor equipment rental program including boats and travel trailers. Trailer repair services with hitch installation and sales. The center offers classes and clinic for many of the outdoor pursuits that can be found in Washington. NAC controls hunting opportunities on post and a safety briefing. The NAC houses the Outdoor Recreation administrative offices and provides adventure outings of all kinds and two year round paint ball fields. For more information call 967-7744.

Skeet and Rifle Pistol Ranges. Fort Lewis boasts of the finest skeet range in the Army. It offers six skeet fields, four trap fields with duck tower, five stand and wobble skeet. Monthly sporting clay competitions and registered skeet compactions. The newly remodeled clubhouse offers shooting sports resale and snackbar. The rifle range has 30 lanes, 10 to 300 yard targets and covered shooting benches. For more information about the ranges call 967-7744.

Youth Services

The main Youth Center, located on the corner of 12th Street and Bitar Avenue, is a hub for social, creative, recreational and educational activities for youth. The center is open for youth immediately after school until 9 p.m. and Fridays until 10 p.m.; Saturdays from noon until midnight with the last four hours on Saturday being reserved for "teens" only. The main Youth Center facility consists of multipurpose courts, a large lounge, a computer lab of 13 units, three classrooms, a kitchen, and administrative offices. Other facilities include numerous ball fields, a gymnastics building, a smaller youth center in Beachwood housing area and the American Lake Youth Camp.

Following Army guidelines, and Boys and Girls Clubs of America affiliated programs, Youth Services activities are designed to offer sports and fitness options; life skills, citizenship, and leadership opportunities; mentoring; intervention and support services. The more traditional youth center leisure recreation program, often referred to open recreation consists of pickup games, amusement machines, billiards, table tennis and television. At least one structured activity, voluntarily elected by attending children and youth is offered at least once a day in such areas as arts and crafts, music, computer lab, dance, and game competition. Instructional ballet, tap, and jazz classes are also conducted at the main Youth Center.

The Sports and Fitness program offers baseball, two seasons of soccer, two seasons of basketball, track and field, and instructional classes in karate and gymnastics. Efforts are underway to add tackle football and physical fitness programs, and increase participation by girls. With the exception of cheer leading, consisting primarily of girls, the youth sports program is coed operated.

Boys and Girls Clubs of America, Keystone, Torch, Power Hour, and Swoosh Clubs, all of which are designed to teach citizenship, values, leadership, homework tutoring, are offered at various times of the year.

Summer Day Camp is conducted 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays at American Lake. This program, operating to Army child care standards, offers a wide range of activities including swimming, bowling, nature walks and computer lab exercises.

Fort Lewis offers one of the best youth "Special Needs" recreation program in the Army. The Madigan Army Medical Center draws a significant number of married soldiers with exceptional family members, and Youth Services responds by conducting "Special Olympics" activities and mainstreaming opportunities.

Participation in any Youth Services Program, unless the event is of a special nature open to all youth, requires prior registration. Fees vary according to the activity. For further information call: customer service, weekdays, noon to 6 p.m., 967-4441; sports, 967-2405; leisure recreation, 967-3188; summer camp, 967-2391.

Flying Activity

The Fort Lewis Army Flying Activity offers flight training for all of the various aviation ratings from the private pilot through the airline transport pilot. These programs encourage creative development of skills in flying by providing the necessary ground and flight training to achieve the highest level of certification in aviation. For those who are already rated pilots, there are rental aircraft available for travel, sightseeing and other recreational uses. Most aircraft are fully equipped for instrument flight and are the finest maintained aircraft in the Northwest. One of the most important benefits is that all flying club members are named insured on the DOD insurance policy, eliminating any requirement for an individual to acquire renter's insurance at individuals expense. The Fort Lewis Army Flying Activity is open to members of all active duty military, retirees, reserves, national Guard, DOD civilians. Civil Air Patrol and the FAA.

The office is located in Nelson Recreation Center, Bldg. 3168. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. However, due to reduced staffing, please call 253-964-4932 to ensure someone will be there.

Officers' Club

The Fort Lewis Officers' Club offers a large selection of entertainment and facilities. Membership is open to active-duty officers and warrant officers, retired officers and warrant officers, officers' spouses, and Army civilians, GS-7 and above.

The club is open to everyone for lunch and Sunday brunch and is set up for fast food and cafeteria operation as well as for leisurely dining. The Cascade Lounge features a game room and dancing while the Rainier Room offers a more private atmosphere complemented by the Rainier Lounge for quiet get-togethers.

The Lewis, Clark and Olympic rooms are available for private parties and other functions. Reservations can be made by calling 964-0334.

The club also features party and banquet catering and varied entertainment. For members' convenience, there is a check-cashing service. The club also houses a barbershop which is open to everyone.

The Madigan Cafe/Latin Sensations

Located at the old Madigan Army Medical Center, the cafe features lunch Monday through Friday and Latin Sensation Night on Wednesday and Friday. It is also available for private parties by calling 964-4054.

American Lake Club

Overlooking beautiful American Lake, the American Lake Club is open to all enlisted soldiers. The club is open Tuesday through Sunday. Champs Champs, the all-ranks club on main post, offers TVs, darts and pool tables and is Fort Lewis' sports bar and teriyaki restaurant. Lunch is from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The club opens at 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Private parties and unit functions may be scheduled by calling 964-0473.

Enlisted Spouses Club

Spouses of enlisted active duty, reserve, and retired soldiers or widowed may find it rewarding to join the Enlisted Spouses Club. Along with giving an opportunity to join in community work, the club sponsors a spring bazaar, social functions and a Christmas gift wrap. Club dues are $12 per year. Meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month in Bldg. 6195, corner of 22d Street and Nevada. Call 967-5849 or 912-1571 for more information.

Officers Spouses Club

The Officers Spouses Club (OSC) is an active organization dedicated to serving the Fort Lewis community. With a membership of more than 250, OSC sponsors two major fundraisers each year, contributing to Fort Lewis and surrounding communities. Board meetings are held monthly at the OSC cottage, Bldg. 1143. Luncheons are also held monthly. The cottage is available for rental by members.

Membership dues are $15 per year. Phone 967-6571 for more information regarding eligibility.

Military Museum

The mission of the Fort Lewis Military Museum, Bldg. 4320, is to collect, preserve, exhibit and interpret the history of Fort Lewis, the units which served here, and the story of the United States Army in the Pacific Northwest.

Four major galleries depict the colorful history of Fort Lewis, the units which served here, and the story of the U.S. Army in the early Pacific Northwest.

The museum, housed in the old Fort Lewis Inn, was originally constructed in 1919 by the Salvation Army and named the Red Shield Inn. It was used as a lodge and social center for soldiers and visitors to Camp Lewis. It was situated in an area known as Greene Park, named after the first commanding general of the 91st Infantry Division and Camp Lewis, Maj. Gen. Henry A. Greene. In July 1921, the Army purchased the Inn on a "Quit Claim" deed for one dollar and renamed it the Camp Lewis Inn. In 1927, the camp was designated a fort and the inn acquired the title it was to keep for 46 years - the Fort Lewis Inn.

In 1973, the structure became the home of the Fort Lewis Military Museum and today serves as a distinguished reminder of Fort Lewis' historic past. The museum's collection of military artifacts is rich and varied and consists of weapons, uniforms, vehicles and thousands of other items pertinent to the history of Fort Lewis.

The museum has many exhibits covering the history of military activities in the Northwest. Exhibits are arranged chronologically, highlighting the divisions which have trained at Fort Lewis and their overseas duty.

Special exhibits are devoted to WWII in Europe and the South Pacific, and combat art from Vietnam. Uniforms, equipment and weapons represent all eras.

The museum's holdings include weapons, vehicles and uniforms from the Persian Gulf War.

Outside the museum is a 2-1/2 acre park containing military vehicles, artillery pieces, tanks and missiles.

The museum is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday, noon to 4 p.m. Guided tours are available by scheduling with the museum at 967-7206. ■

Puget Sound Area

Pacific Northwest

The Pacific Northwest is a land of contrasts. From the icy deep waters of the Pacific Ocean and the Puget Sound to the high country desert of Central Washington, the area abounds in natural beauty. Towering mountain peaks, lush rain forests and flowing wheat fields are just some of the wonders that await newcomers to the area. Yet, the Northwest has many major cities too: Seattle; Tacoma; Vancouver, British Columbia; and Portland, Oregon, to name just a few.

Most Fort Lewis soldiers, civilian employees and their families live in the South Puget Sound region. More than 2,500 military families live in Lakewood and Tacoma, 1,900 families live in Lacey and Olympia, more than 1,100 military families live in Parkland and Spanaway, and 600 live in Puyallup.

Tacoma

Tacoma is the largest city close to Fort Lewis. The city was shaped over the years by a series of booms and busts that began when the first business was started in the mid-1800s. Businessman Morton McCarver promoted settlement in the budding town and he named it Tacoma, a derivation of the Indian name for Mount Rainier.

The railroad and a growing port brought new businesses to the area. Today Tacoma's port is one of the largest container ports in the world and a major employer in the area.

The Tacoma Narrows Bridge is one of the longest suspension bridges in the world. The center clear span measures 188-feet high and 2,800-feet long. The current bridge opened in 1950, replacing the first narrows bridge which was nicknamed "Galloping Gertie" because of the way it swayed in the wind. It collapsed in 1940, after it was open for only four months and seven days.

With a population of approximately 179,000, Tacoma offers abundant cultural activities. The Pantages Centre of Performing Arts and the Tacoma Dome attract nationally and internationally famous acts. The Tacoma Art Museum features a permanent collection of American and French paintings.

Sports also play an important role in Northwest life. Sailing, skiing, hiking and biking, can all be done within an hour's drive from your door step. Cheney Stadium is the home of the Tacoma Rainiers, an AAA farm club of the Seattle Mariners. The Tacoma Rockets, a professional hockey team, plays home games in the Tacoma Dome.

The Pierce County and Metropolitan Park Districts offer numerous recreational activities and programs. Point Defiance Park is the largest park in the city. In the midst of the 650-acre park is a zoo and aquarium with a Pacific Rim theme. Visitors can thrill to Beluga whales splashing in their pool or a ride on the back of an Asian elephant.

The park also features a beach, scenic drive, hiking trails, gardens, a logging camp with its own steam locomotive ride, Never Never Land — a fairyland for children, and a replica of the Hudson Bay Company's Fort Nisqually.

Another popular local park is Northwest Trek, a 600-acre wild animal sanctuary located in Eatonville. Visitors can view free-roaming animals from the comfort of a covered tram.

Tacoma also has numerous shopping centers, the largest being the Tacoma Mall. The mall, one of the largest in the Pacific Northwest, features The Bon Marche, Nordstrom's, Sears, J.C. Penney and many other shops and restaurants.

Seattle

An hour north of Fort Lewis lies Washington's largest city, Seattle. Straddling a narrow strip between freshwater Lake Washington and saltwater Puget Sound, the city is home to more than 522,000 people. It is named after Indian Chief Seathl.

Since its early days, people have been drawn to Seattle by its rugged scenery and mild climate. Although the Puget Sound was heavily explored in the 18th and 19th centuries, the first families didn't permanently move into Seattle until 1851, when they settled at Alki Point.

The timber industry and maritime trade with the Orient contributed to the city's phenomenal growth. The area is still a strong link in the trade chain with the Far East and the entire Pacific Rim.

The waterfront is not only a busy container port but a popular place for visitors. Numerous shops, restaurants and an aquarium line the piers, once used as warehouses and working docks. Washington State Ferries, one of the country's largest ferry systems, leaves from Pier 52 to various points around Puget Sound. Private companies also run ferries and cruise ships from Seattle to Victoria, British Columbia.

Seattle harbor tours also leave daily for water tours of the Port of Seattle and longer excursions to Blake Island. The island is the birth-place of Chief Seathl. Tours include a salmon dinner cooked on an open fire and a performance of native dances from various Indian cultures of the Northwest. Another popular Seattle attraction is Pike Place Market, an open-air market where you'll find fresh seafood and produce, arts and craft items and clothes. The market first opened in 1907.

Pioneer Square is a 30-block area of shops, nightclubs, restaurants and galleries housed in historic buildings. Most of the buildings were built on the ashes of the original settlement destroyed in the Great Fire of 1889.

The 74-acre Seattle Center was the site of the 1962 World's Fair. Many of the fair buildings now serve cultural purposes such as the Pacific Science Center, the Art Museum Pavilion, the Children's Museum and the Center House. The crowning jewel is the 605-foot Space Needle. An observation deck at the 520-foot level offers a panoramic view of the city, the mountains and the sound. A monorail links the center with downtown's Westlake Center Shopping Mall.

Olympia

Washington's capital Olympia is an important commercial port in its own right. Located 12 miles southwest of Fort Lewis, it's the gateway to the Pacific beaches and the Olympic Peninsula.

Together with the neighboring communities of Lacey and Tumwater, the metro area has a population of more than 68,040. Its major industries include lumber, furniture making, plastics and the Olympia Brewery.

There is a lot to see and do in the Olympia area including touring the state capitol complex, the Olympia Brewery, the Mima Mounds (located south of the city), oyster beds and numerous city parks. Olympia also hosts several celebrations throughout the year. The largest event is the annual Capitol Lake fair held in early July.

Steilacoom

Located just outside of North Fort Lewis is the town of Steilacoom. Founded in 1854, it was the site of the state's first library, courthouse and territorial jail.

The town was also a leading contender for the territorial capital.

Many of the buildings in Steilacoom are more than a century old, including the first Protestant church in the state. Immaculate Conception, a Roman Catholic church, was built in 1856. It is one of the oldest churches still in continuous use in the state. Another historical building still in use is the Bair Drug and Hardware Store. A working turn-of-the-century museum, it has a 1906 soda fountain which still dispenses old-fashioned sodas and fizzes. Along with the Nathanial Orr Home, The Bair is on the National Register of Historical Places.

Besides the numerous historical buildings, Steilacoom has two public beaches and a public boat launch. A ferry leaves the town dock for Anderson Island and Ketron Island. Annual events held in town include the Apple Squeeze in October and a Salmon Bake on the beach in the summer.

Lakewood

Many Fort Lewis families call Lakewood their home because of its proximity to post and excellent shopping facilities. McChord Air Force Base, Fort Lewis's next door neighbor, is located just outside of Lakewood.

The Lakewood Mall opened in the fall of 1989 and features Mervyns, Target, and Lamonts.

Lakewood's development began as a resort getaway for residents of Tacoma. People were drawn to the area by its many crystal clear lakes and tall pines, just as they are today.

The annual Lakewood Festival is held in August.

Puyallup

In the heart of a fertile valley located east of Tacoma is the town of Puyallup - the Daffodil Capital of the United States. Each spring the valley comes alive when millions of daffodils, irises and tulips burst into bloom.

The valley is also known for its raspberry, strawberry, blueberry and blackberry crops.

Spots of interest in the valley include the Van Lierop Bulb Farm and the Meeker Mansion, a 17-room Victorian Mansion that was the home of Ezra Meeker, hop grower and the first mayor of Puyallup.

Puyallup joins with other valley towns to host the Puyallup Valley Daffodil Festival, held annually in early April. The town also plays host to the Western Washington State Fair held every September. Top entertainers, exhibits, livestock shows, midway rides and a rodeo headline the fun at this annual event.

Gig Harbor

Five miles northwest of Tacoma, across the Narrows Bridge, lies the quaint waterside town of Gig Harbor. Settled by Slavic immigrants, the town features dozens of shops, restaurants and galleries along Harborview Drive.

Gig Harbor offers moorage for commercial fishing boats and private craft. The town is also the gateway to the Kitsap and Key Peninsulas via Highway 16. Just a short drive north of Gig Harbor is Bremerton and its Naval Shipyard, home port of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Nimitz. A trident submarine base is located nearby in Silverdale.

Regional Areas

The Cascades run from the Canadian border south through Oregon, dividing Washington into distinct climates. Eastern Washington is often dry when Western Washington is wet. Thousands of acres of forest provide homes for bear, deer, mountain goats, eagles and many other species. The mountains also provide endless recreational opportunities for humans. Skiing (downhill and cross-country), hiking, camping, mountain biking and fishing are just some of the ways to get out and explore the great outdoors.

Two national parks, North Cascades and Mount Rainier, and a national volcanic monument, Mount St. Helens, are located in the Cascades.

Towering over all other Cascade peaks is Mount Rainier. Climbing 14,414 feet towards the sky, the mountain is covered year-round by 35 square miles of ice in 27 named glaciers. It's the largest single mountain glacier system in the lower 48 states.

Forests cover the mountainside up to 5,000 feet, alpine meadows contrast with ice and snow at higher elevations. Flowers in the high country meadows usually bloom from late June to early August. Fall foliage colors are generally best in late September.

Mount Rainier National Park is open daily. However, only the Nisqually entrance is open yearround. Visitor services are available at Longmire, Paradise and Sunrise.

In summer, the park is ideal for hiking, camping and climbing. Each year more than 2,500 climbers attempt the two-day climb to the summit.

In winter, the deep snow pack makes it ideal for cross-country skiing and tubing. A snow play area is located at Paradise. The Sunshine Point Campground is open for snow camping.

The Olympic Peninsula, located in Washington's extreme northwest corner, is an area of contrasts. It's a land of wind-swept beaches, rugged mountain terrain, lush rain forests and glacier-covered peaks. Deer, elk and bears are plentiful.

Camping and hiking trails are available in both the Olympic National Forest and the Olympic National Park. Most areas are accessible from U.S. Hwy. 101, which forms an inverted "U" shape around the park and forest.

Olympic National Park is a scenic wilderness of 917,133 acres. More than 600 miles of trails cut through the park's varied terrain, including 57 miles of unspoiled ocean coast-line.

Mount Olympus is the highest point on the peninsula at 7,965 feet. On the upper slopes, glaciers are found, unusual for their formation at lower elevations. Stands of Sitka spruce, Douglas fir, hemlock and cedar cover the lower mountain slopes.

Rainfall averages 140 inches in the western rain forests. The most spectacular of the ancient forests are found in the Hoh, Quinault, Bogachiel and Queets River valleys.

Besides rugged scenery, the peninsula has quaint seaside towns like Aberdeen-Hoquiam, Port Angeles, Westport and Port Townsend.

A popular vacation spot, the Long Beach Peninsula is famous also for its oyster and cranberry harvesting. The area claims to have the world's longest beach — 28 miles of hard sand — prime for surf fishing, swimming, deep sea fishing and boating.

Points of interest on the peninsula include; Cape Disappointment, known as the "Graveyard of the Pacific" because of the great number of ships which have wrecked there; North Head Lighthouse near Ilwaco; and Oysterville, a boomtown created by the discovery of rich oyster beds in 1854. These oysters were considered such a delicacy that they sold in San Francisco during the 1850s for $50 worth of gold per plate.

Located nearby is the Columbia River, a popular spot for board sailors. Sailors can be found up and down the river on the Washington and Oregon sides. However, the most sailboard action can be found near Hood River, Ore. in the Gorge.

Most Fort Lewis soldiers see Central Washington as part of their training at the Yakima Training Center. Unlike Western Washington, much of the middle section of the state is semi-arid.

The Yakima Valley, located east of Mount Adams, is one of the major agricultural areas in the state. Many of Washington's vineyards are located in the valley. The area's optimum weather conditions produce the finest grapes, making Washington State one of the top wine producers in the country.

Thanks to irrigation, much of the state's mid-section is rich in agricultural crops. Rolling wheat fields, reminiscent of the Midwest, and fruit orchards dot the countryside.

Central Washington abounds in recreational opportunities too. It's one of the best areas in the state for hiking, fishing and hunting. Downhill skiing is available in the nearby mountains at White Pass Ski Area. White water rafting is popular on the Wenatchee River between Leavenworth and Cashmere during the summer months.

Ellensburg is located in the Kittitas Valley. Once it was a neutral area in which the Wenatchee, Nez Perce and Yakima Indians hunted and fished together. Today, it's a bustling college town. The Ellensburg Rodeo is held every Labor Day weekend.

Leavenworth, once a quiet railroad town, has been transformed into a Bavarian village. Visitors are attracted to the town by its quaint shops and European-style restaurants. The Autumn Leaf Festival and Christmas Tree Lighting are popular annual events held in town.

Washington's northwest area offers some of the most scenic, relaxing and exciting recreational experiences in the state. Whether hiking in the North Cascade Range, skiing the slopes of Mount Baker, or rafting down the rivers on a relaxing eagle-sighting expedition or exciting whitewater adventure, you're sure to create memories that will last a lifetime.

Few places have as much tranquil charm as the San Juan Islands. Scattered between U.S. and Canadian waters, the 176 islands offer idyllic getaways where coastal forest and calm saltwater come together in bays, inlets, coves and marine retreats.

Washington State Ferries cruise through the islands, making several round trips a day from Anacortes, including daily trip to Vancouver Island, British Columbia. Equipped with restaurants and comfortable lounges, the ferries are a convenient and inexpensive way to see the islands with or without a car. They stop at four islands where you can get off, spend a few hours exploring, then take the next ferry to another island. Whale watching and bicycle tours are popular island activities.

The southeastern corner of Washington offers striking contrasts in scenery and climate. The land here has been shaped by wind and water, creating sculptured hills, gorges and sage desert.

Eastern Washington has played an important role in U.S. history.

Walla Walla was an important stop on the Oregon Trail. Along with Los Alamos, N.M.; Oak Ridge, Tenn.; and the Argonne Laboratory in Chicago, the Hanford site in Richland was a development site for the first atomic bomb. High technological industries still play an important role in the town's economy.

The northeast corner of the state is dotted by numerous lakes, the largest of these is Lake Roosevelt. Stretching 130 miles from the Grand Coulee Dam to near the Canadian border, the lake offers water skiing, boating, swimming and fishing.

Spokane has grown from a small trading post to Washington's second largest city. The city was the site of

HOME OF AMERICAN CORN

Expo '74. Now the former fair-grounds have been transferred into a 50-acre city park with many of the original attractions from the world exposition still in use.

Coeur d'Alene Lake, just across the state line in Idaho, is just a short trip from Spokane. The lake, a natural body of water, offers a number of recreational activities including boating, swimming and water skiing. A major resort hotel on the lakeshore attracts visitors yearround for conferences and just plain fun.

British Columbia is just a three-hour drive north on Interstate 5. This western-most Canadian Province offers spectacular scenery and big city fun. The rugged mountain peaks create a dramatic backdrop as they rise near the sea. British Columbia offers a chance to get away from civilization and journey into the untamed wilderness. White water rivers run fast and wild through the countryside. Hiking, camping and skiing are just some of the many other things to do in the back country.

World-class skiing can be found at Whistler and Blackcomb year-round. Blackcomb Mountain, with its mix of heart-stopping and easy cruising slopes, has the highest vertical drop of any ski mountain in North America. Whistler, Blackcomb's next door neighbor, is the site of a major World Cup downhill race, the Molson Cup.

Yet, there are major cities in British Columbia too. Vancouver is a world-class city in a spectacular natural setting. To the east rise the peaks of the Coastal Range, and to the west lie the Straits of Georgia. The city is rimmed by lush forests and sandy beaches.

The city's major attractions include Gastown, Robson Street, Granville Island Market, Chinatown and Stanley Park.

Victoria, located on the tip of Vancouver Island, is the capital of British Columbia. The city has an air of European charm. From the double-decker buses to the elegance of the Empress Hotel, a trip to Victoria is like a trip to Merry ol' England. Major attractions include the Royal British Columbia Museum and Butchart Gardens.

Accessible only by boat, ferry service is available from Seattle, Port Angeles, and Tsawwassen, B.C. The Vancouver Island Princess and the Victoria Clipper, a high-speed catamaran, sail daily from Seattle.

Oregon, like Washington state, is a land of climate and landscape contrasts. The Cascade Range divides the state into two distinct climates. Mount Hood, rising 11,239 feet above sea level, is the highest point in the state.

With nearly half of its land covered in forests, Oregon leads the nation in lumber industries. Agriculture also plays an important role.

Recreational activities center around the mountains and the Pacific Ocean. Fishing, hunting, hiking, camping and white water rafting are just a few of the activities to be found. Oregon has one of the most extensive park systems in the west. A state-wide network of bicycle trails has been developed by the state Department of Transportation.

Snow skiing is popular at several ski areas on Mount Hood and at Mount Bachelor, located near Bend.

Portland, Oregon's largest city, is only a three-hour drive from Fort Lewis. The city offers many cultural and recreational activities including museums, gardens, parks and a zoo.

Portland is a popular place to shop because Oregon has no sales tax. Many major department stores and outlet stores, such as the Pendleton Woolen Mills, offer shoppers endless choices. The Fort Lewis Information, Tickets and Tours Office runs several day trips to Portland, especially during the Christmas shopping season.

Some facts about Washington state history: Washington, named for our nation's first president, became a state in 1889. Prior to then it was known as the Washington Territory in 1853.

Population: In 2000 the estimated population in Washington was 4,866,692. The majority live in the western portion, most in the Puget Sound area. Seattle is the largest city, with a population of 540,000. Next in size is Spokane with 189,000 and Tacoma with 187,000.

Climate: Washington has two distinct climatic zones: the eastern and western portions, which are divided by the Cascade Mountains. Climate in the eastern half is characterized by warm summers, cooler winters and a very dry climate. Spokane's average rainfall is only 17 inches per year. The western side is known for its rainforests. Seattle, however, receives only 38 inches of rain per year.

Geography: The western portion of the state is heavily forested and enjoys a very long coastline, served by 12 ports capable of handling freight and ships of almost any configuration.

Eastern Washington's geographic diversity ranges from densely forested and snow-capped mountain peaks to rolling hills of wheat to desert country.

Industry: The manufacturing of transportation equipment is the number one industry in the state. The Boeing Aircraft Corporation, located in the Puget Sound area, is the largest manufacturer of commercial transport airplanes in the free world. The second largest industry is forest products.

Recreation: The state has three national parks (Mount Rainier, Olympic and North Cascades), nine national forests, more than a thousand lakes and rivers and 2,500 miles of shoreline. Among the major attractions are downhill and cross-country skiing; coastal fishing for salmon, tuna and bottom fish; freshwater fishing for trout, steelhead and bass; camping, hiking, boating, city sightseeing, river rafting, Indian culture and historic sites.

History....

Fort Lewis, named after Meriwether Lewis of the famed Lewis and Clark expedition, is one of the largest and most modern military reservations in the United States. Consisting of 87,000 acres of prairie land cut from the glacier-flattened Nisqually Plain, it is the premier military installation in the Northwest.

Fort Lewis began as Camp Lewis in 1917 when the citizens of Pierce County voted by an eight to one margin to bond themselves for $2 million to buy 70,000 acres of land. They donated the land to the federal government for military use. The only stipulation was that the tract be used as a permanent Army post.

Captain David L. Stone and his staff arrived at the camp site May 26, 1917, and a few days later the initial construction began. The entire camp was ready for occupancy a month ahead of schedule. In 90 days, Stone had supervised the construction of a "city" of 1,757 buildings and 422 other structures all lighted and heated for 60,000 men.

The first recruits moved into their new barracks on Sept. 5, 1917, exactly two months after the post building plan had been handed to the contractors.

When they completed construction of the new cantonment, workmen subscribed $4,000 to build the Main Gate- which is still standing. The arch was built of field stone and squared logs resembling the old block houses which stood in the Northwest as forts.

Some 60,000 men, including the 91st Division, moved into the hastily constructed cantonment to train for World War I. Recruited largely from the Northwest, the 91st was considered "Washington's Own." The following two years saw tremendous activity at Camp Lewis as men were mobilized and trained for war service. Thousands of the nation's youth learned to know

Camp Lewis and the state of Washington.

With the conclusion of the war, activities at Lewis ground to a standstill. Camp Lewis passed from the hands of Pierce County and became the property of the federal government when the deed for 62,432 acres was recorded in the county auditor's office in Tacoma.

In March 1926, $800,000 was authorized for the construction of permanent brick barracks at Camp Lewis. The following year saw Camp Lewis become Fort Lewis, a full-fledged Army post.

By 1934, with the 10-year rebuilding program more than half completed, Fort Lewis had taken on the appearance of a solidly constructed and, in some ways, self-sustaining city.

Since 1927, the government had spent nearly $7 million in transforming a wartime cantonment, which only cost $7 million itself, into a modern permanent post. Fort Lewis was rebuilt on an architectural scheme, which provided for indefinite expansion in case additional buildings were authorized.

In a few short years, Fort Lewis had become one of the finest garrisons in the world, equipped and ready to train an expected increase in personnel.

Brigadier General David L. Stone, who had supervised the original construction of Fort Lewis as a captain, returned as its commanding general in 1936, serving until 1937.

The project of constructing an Army airfield, which later became McChord Air Force Base, directly north of the Fort Lewis installation, received approval as a WPA project in January 1938, and $61,730 was allocated for construction. The allocation provided for clearing, grading, and leveling a runaway 6,000-feet long by 600-feet wide.

The unrest in Europe accelerated the building program at Fort Lewis which consisted, at the time, of 455 permanent structures.

With the start of World War II, the strength of Fort Lewis climbed and by July of 1940, the garrison had approximately 7,000 men. Four months later, nearly 26,000 officers and men were in service at Fort Lewis, McChord Field and Camp

Murray, the National Guard training facility which began accepting Army draftees.

February of 1941 saw the largest invasion of raw recruits and National Guardsmen — 11,000 to the Fort Lewis and Camp Murray area since the draft was started in 1940. This, along with the continued growth of the IX Corps and 3rd and 41st Divisions, pushed the post's strength to 37,000.

Two officers who were to become famous World War II generals were stationed at Fort Lewis. General Mark Clark was a major from 1937, when he graduated from the War College, until 1940.

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, and former President of the United States, was executive officer of the 15th Infantry here and then served briefly as Chief of Staff of the IX Corps at Fort Lewis in 1941.

As a result of precautions taken by the commander of Fort Lewis, the post was operating on a wartime basis for several hours Dec. 7, 1941, before official notice of the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor came from the War Department.

A camp for prisoners of war was established at Fort Lewis in July 1943 and was continued for three years. The need for increased hospital facilities in the Northwest was growing and once again the War Department looked to Fort Lewis. Plans were announced in 1943 for the construction of a $3 million addition to the Fort Lewis hospital — later named Madigan General Hospital — which would make the center one of the largest in the nation.

In July 1944, Fort Lewis was redesignated as an Army Service Forces training center for the nation, training medics and engineers.

WACs first arrived at Fort Lewis in the fall of 1943 and became a permanent fixture by the following spring.

At the conclusion of World War II, the northeast staging area of Fort Lewis became a separation center and discharged its first soldiers in November of 1945.

Although the war was over, 11,000 youthful inductees received intensive training at the Fort Lewis Basic Training Section in May 1946, prior to being sent overseas for occupational duties.

At the time North Korean forces invaded the Republic of South Korea, wartime restrictions were imposed by the Fort Lewis commander, who ordered all troops back to Fort Lewis by the fastest means possible.

In July and August of 1950, Fort Lewis's 2nd Division became the first American division to leave the United States to fight in Korea. They later became the first United Nations force to cross the Naktong River in the counter-offensive that shoved the North Koreans back across the 38th parallel and resulted in a temporary cessation of all organized resistance.

To handle the influx of draftees called up because of the Korean conflict, the 6219th Reception Center arrived at Fort Lewis as the first Pacific Coast center to be reactivated. It soon received, processed and assigned 4,594 soldiers in eight record-smashing days.

Canadian troops arrived at North Fort Lewis in October 1950 to train for duty in Korea, and is believed to be the first large armed group of a foreign nation ever to stage on a reservation operated by the United States.

With the departure of the 4th Infantry Division for Vietnam in 1966, Fort Lewis once again became a personnel transfer and training center. In 1981, I Corps was activated here. Designated an early deploying corps for military contingencies in the Pacific, I Corps is able to deploy on short notice.

In 1990, Fort Lewis received word that it would likely become the home of the 7th Infantry Division (Light) if Congress approved the closure of Fort Ord, Calif. This approval came in 1991. The 7th Infantry Division (Light) began its move in 1992 with its' 1st Brigade. Later, the decision was made to inactivate the remainder of the 7th Division at Fort Ord which happened in the spring of 1994.

I Corps contributed heavily to the command structure of the Gulf War. An ex-commander, Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, was commander of all American forces in the Gulf. The Corps commander, Lt. Gen. Calvin A. H. Waller, went to the Gulf on temporary duty to act as Schwarzkopf's deputy. The deputy I Corps commander, Maj. Gen. Paul R. Schwartz, who was known for his expertise in the Middle East, also went to the Gulf in a temporary status where he served as special assistant to Schwarzkopf.

After the return of forces from South west Asia, activity in the Corps did not return to pre-war levels.

The Corps began to convert to a permanently structured contingency corps in conformance with newly emerging national defense policy. This entailed the addition of a number of active component corps units. In preparation for these new corps requirements, Fort Lewis began to receive new corps support units which were coming out of Europe. One of these was the 7th Engineer Brigade, which was inactivated Jan. 16, 1992, and immediately reactivated as the 555th Engineer Group. On Feb. 16, the 210th Field Artillery Brigade, also from Europe, was activated.

Elements of 3rd Brigade, 1st Armored Division, began flowing into Fort Lewis in April 1994, and the move was completed by September. The brigade was inactivated Sept. 29, and immediately reactivated as the 3rd Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division (Mechanized). The other two brigades and the division head-quarters were located in Korea.

In March 1995, HHC, 3rd Brigade, 1st Armored Division was reflagged as HHC, 3rd Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division, and in August 1995 the 9th Infantry Regiment was reflagged as the 1st Brigade 25th Infantry Division.

The IX Corps Headquarters inactivated in Japan in 1994 also expanded I Corps' role and mission in the Pacific. However, the Army decided to relocated all air defense artillery to Fort Bliss, Texas. As a result, the 35th Air Defense Artillery left Fort Lewis by 1997.

On Oct. 12, 1999 Chief of Staff of the Army Gen. Eric K. Shinseki announced that the Army intended to develop a force that is deployable, agile, lethal, survivable and dominant on the battlefield. Shinseki selected Maj. Gen. James M. Dubik, I Corps and Fort Lewis Deputy Commanding General for Transformation, U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command to spearhead the Army Transformation, taking the 1st Brigade and 3rd Brigade and transforming them into a force capable of rapid deployment. These two brigades will be the first for establishing "combat brigade" teams" that can deploy anywhere in the world within 96 hours.

Post Landmarks

The old Main Gate is one of the oldest structures on Fort Lewis. The men involved in the construction of the post in 1917 donated 25 cents for each stone. The squared logs and smooth field stones present a style typical of the old blockhouses which dotted the Pacific Northwest during the frontier era. The guardhouses anchor the gallery arch which is complete with rifle ports. The Main Gate was moved to its current site in 1957 when I-5 was constructed.

Two ornate Spanish cannons stand guard at the main gate, in front of I Corps Headquarters, the Museum and the Fourth ROTC Region headquarters. The eight cannons weigh more than three tons each and once formed a part of the Spanish battery at Manila in the Philippine Islands. They were captured by General Wesley Merritt's landing force of Army troops during the battle of Manila in 1898.

The Infantryman, an 18-foot fiberglass statue known as The Soldier's Statue, is set with Mount Rainier and the Cascade Mountains in the background at the north end of Gray Army Airfield. The Infantryman was unveiled in the summer of 1964. It memorializes the men of the 4th Infantry Division who trained at Fort Lewis before their departure for Vietnam. The statue was designed and sculpted by members of the Ivy Division. The statue's face was de-signed to incorporate features of all races, as to represent all infantrymen.

Often serving as the backdrop for ceremonial functions, the 91st Infantry Division monument stands directly before Quarters No. 1, home of I Corps' Commanding General. Unveiled in 1930 by the 91st Division Association, the monument commemorates the role of the "Wild West Division" during World War I. The division was made up of volunteers from Washington, Oregon, California, Montana, Utah and Wyoming. The 91st Division trained at Fort Lewis before departing for France.

What's in the Name?

Devore Hall, the former headquarters building for the 9th Infantry Division (Motorized), honors the memory of Specialist Edward A. Devore Jr., a machine-gunner in the 9th Infantry Division. He was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions in Vietnam in March 1968. While participating in a reconnaissance in force, Devore's platoon came under intense attack from a series of wellconcealed bunkers. Devore raced through a hail of enemy fire to provide a base of fire from his machine gun. A squad was sent forward to recover a fallen comrade and became pinned down. Devore assaulted the enemy positions and was hit by enemy fire about 35 meters short of his objective. He continued his assault despite intense hostile fire. Despite his grievous wounds, Devore continued to apply accurate suppressive fire and the trapped squad was able to rejoin the platoon in safety.

Pendleton Drive is named for Staff Sergeant Jack R. Pendleton of Yakima, Wash. He died in action in Germany, October 1944. Pendleton was seriously injured while assaulting a machine gun position. He gave his life by deliberately drawing the concentrated fire of the enemy so that others in his unit could pass through the enemy strong point. Pendleton was awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions that day.

Gray Army Airfield honors Hawthorn C. Gray, an avid balloonist. Captain Gray served in World War I and established a world record for altitude in a balloon. He died accidentally during a free balloon flight in November 1927. Gray Army Airfield's east-west runway served as a backdrop for portions of "To Hell and Back," the life story of Audie Murphy, America's most decorated soldier.

Nelson Recreation Center is dedicated to the memory of Sergeant William L. Nelson, who was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions in Tunisia. Nelson served with the 9th Infantry Division during the latter stages of the North African Campaign. He led his section of heavy mortars to a forward position. Amidst intense artillery, mortar and small arms fire, he went on alone to direct his own mortar barrage. Although he was grievously wounded, he continued to crawl closer and closer to the enemy and continued to direct his men's attack.

Carey Memorial Theater, the post's main theater, was named for Staff Sergeant Alvin P. Carey, a member of the 2nd Infantry Division. He single-handedly attacked a German pillbox near Plougastel, France. He killed a rifleman and then continued on, hurling grenades at the fortification in the face of intense fire, which mortally wounded him. Undaunted, he gathered his strength and continued his grenade attack until the occupants of the pillbox were all killed. He was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor for his gallant actions.

McVeigh Memorial Gymnasium honors Sergeant John McVeigh, 2nd Infantry Division a recipient of our nation's highest award for gallantry in action, the Medal of Honor. Despite heavy fire and a German counterattack, he stood up in full view and directed the fire of his squad. He then drew his trench knife and charged several of the enemy. In a savage hand-to-hand struggle, he killed one with his knife and was advancing on three more of the enemy when he was killed by point-blank fire.

Kimbro Memorial Swimming Pool commemorates the actions of Technician Fourth Grade Truman Kimbro, 2nd Infantry Division. During a mission to mine an intersection he discovered it was occupied by an enemy tank and at least 20 riflemen. Driven back by intense fire, he left his squad, and laden with mines, crawled alone towards the crossroads. Although severely wounded, he dragged himself forward and laid the mines across the road but was killed trying to crawl back to his unit. Kimbro was awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions

Grandstaff Memorial Library honors Bruce A. Grandstaff a native of Spokane, Wash. He was mortally wounded in May 1967 while leading his platoon in Pleiku Province, Vietnam. Grandstaff was leading his weapons platoon through intermittent enemy contact when they were struck by heavy fire. He called for and adjusted artillery fire to within 45 meters of his position. Because the jungle canopy obscured the helicopter gunships' views, he braved enemy fire to throw smoke grenades and was wounded. He went out again to mark the enemy with tracers from his weapon and was again wounded. He continued on and destroyed an enemy machine gun position with hand grenades. He continued to fight and eventually called for artillery fire on his own position. Grandstaff received the Medal of Honor for his actions.

Watkins Field, Fort Lewis' main parade field, is named in honor of Master Sergeant Travis E. Watkins of the 9th U.S. Regiment who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor while assigned to Company H, during the Korean conflict. When an enemy force broke through and isolated 30 men of his unit, Watkins took command, established a defense and directed actions which repelled continuous enemy assaults. Due to his aggressive leadership from Aug. through Sept. 3, 1950, this small force destroyed nearly 500 enemy troops before he ordered his men to escape to friendly lines. Due to his wounds and indicative of his extraordinary heroism, Watkins wished his men "Good Luck" as he remained in place, giving up his life to protect their escape.

Burris Field, North Fort Lewis' main parade field is named for Sergeant First Class Tony K. Burris. He fought with the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea. Over a two-day period, Burris destroyed several emplacements and fortifications, killing many enemy soldiers. He suffered several wounds and refused all but emergency treatment. After charging an enemy position singlehandedly, he destroyed it and killed the crew of at least six men. He moved on to the next emplacement and threw his last hand grenade, destroying that position. He fell mortally wounded by enemy fire, but his bravery inspired his comrades to renew a spirited assault to take Hill 605, a strategic position in the battle for "Heartbreak Ridge." Burris was awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions.

Strvker Avenue, a broad street running through the residential area, honors Private First Class Stuart S. Stryker's actions during World War II. After Stryker's unit made its jump east of the Rhine River, they were pinned down by a large group of Germans. In full view of the enemy and under constant fire, he exhorted the soldiers of his unit to get to their feet and follow him. The charge was successful in overwhelming the enemy, but Stryker was killed in the attack. Stryker was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously.

Jensen Memorial Gymnasium was named for First Lieutenant John Jensen. Jensen was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for his actions in France in July, 1944.

Stone Education Center is named after Major General David L. Stone who came to Tacoma as a Major in charge of constructing Camp Lewis in 1917. He later returned as a Major General in 1936 to command the 3rd Infantry Division and the post he built. MG Stone was memorialized in this facility because of his advanced design and use of materials in building Camp Lewis.

The Stone Center is a technologically advanced education facility designed to accommodate state-of-the-art instructional material. It holds both science and computer laboratories as well as technical and academic resource facilities. It is also linked by satellite to other educational support centers.

Yakima Training

Yakima Training Center, located nine miles north of Yakima, Wash., borders the eastern slopes of the Cascade Mountain Range and the banks of the Columbia River.

In sharp contrast to Fort Lewis, its 323,400-acre terrain is covered with sagebrush, volcanic formations, dry gulches and large rock outcroppings. This training center for I Corps and many other units has vast flat valleys, ideally suited to train large scaled mechanized forces.

Prior to 1941, the area consisted of ranches and a few scattered silica mines. Just before World War II, the Army's need for a maneuver area large enough to contain an infantry division became apparent. It negotiated with landowners to lease 160,000 acres of what was to become the Yakima Anti-Aircraft Artillery Range.

In 1941, the land became the property of the U.S. government. Units from military organizations in the Pacific Northwest use the center for range firing and small unit tests. The first camp was constructed on Umtanum Ridge, 13 miles northeast of the present cantonment area, in 1941. Units that used the center during the World War II era included artillery, infantry, engineer, reserve and National Guard units based in the Pacific Northwest.

In 1947, approximately 60,000 acres were cleared of unexploded ammunition and returned to the original owners. In 1949 and 1950 the State of Washington used the center for summer training of its National Guard units and regular Army troops were permanently assigned to the center. At this time, the Army decided to expand Yakima Training Center. In 1951, it acquired more land through transfer, negotiation and condemnation and was enlarged to 261,451 acres.

Yakima Training Center has services and facilities available for permanently assigned soldiers and families, and for soldiers training at the center temporarily.

Yakima Training Center does not provide on-post housing for married soldiers. The average cost of rent, based on two-bedroom apartments is as follows: Yakima $475 to $600 Selah $475 to $600 Ellensburg $375 to $550

Located in the center of the state, Yakima is near many historical and recreational sites. The city itself offers many recreational opportunities such as bowling, tennis, swimming, golf, museums, theaters, horse racing and auto racing. Nearby the Cascade Mountains offer skiing, outdoor recreation, hunting, fishing and hiking. For more information call the Recreation Services Office at ext. 271.

The area also offers an extensive selection of fine dining facilities and local wineries. Fast food and conventional restaurants are located throughout Yakima, with some open 24 hours.

Vancouver Barracks...

Vancouver Barracks is located 120 miles south of Fort Lewis in Vancouver, Washington. This historic post continues to serve as an army installation in southwest Washington, serving active duty, Army Reserve and Army National Guard units.

Established in 1849, Vancouver Barracks served as the principal military headquarters for the Northwest and Alaska until 1940. From Vancouver Barracks, military units assisted in the settling of the West through exploration, peacemaking, engineering, mapping and road construction, as well as promotion of settlements and commerce. Many notable soldiers served at the Barracks including Generals George McClellan, Phillip Sheridan and Ulysses Grant. General George C. Marshall was commander of the Barracks in 1936 and 1937 and also presided over the historic arrival of a Soviet aircraft upon its successful conclusion of the first transpolar flight.

The Barracks, now covering 52 acres in Vancouver's Central Park area, is bounded by Fort Vancouver National Historic Site and the city's restored Officer's Row. Thirty of its 49 buildings constructed between 1881 and 1919 qualify for the National Historic Register. These stately structures are being preserved and now serve as headquarters and training facilities for the 104th Division (Training); 3d Brigade, 104th Division; 396th Combat Support Hospital; and 6th JAG Detachment (all Army Reserve units) and Detachment 1, Battery B, 2nd Battalion, 146th Field Artillery (Washington Army National Guard).

Vancouver Barracks has limited services to support its active, reserve component and retiree population.

Family quarters consist of seven duplexes and two single units.

The Post Exchange, Bldg. 752, is open Monday-Saturday 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The Shoppette, Bldg. 754, is open Monday-Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The two facilities provide most everyday items.

The Barber/Beauty Shop, Bldg. 786, is open Tuesday-Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. ■

Building Number Sequence

The red four-digit numbers indicate the building in that area. Generally, the sequence proceeds from west to east on the Main Post, from the 100 block to the 9000 block. There are some exceptions. You'll find the 3000 block at Gray Army Airfield, the 4000 block north of I-5, the 8000 block in Beachwood housing area and the 9000 block at Madigan and the Logistics Center.

North Fort Buildings are identified by letter and numbers in blocks A-F.

"They're building the American way of life right across the road."

When you defend America, you defend a way of life that's hard to find. Even in America. We're talking about a close community where people care about one another. Where you can raise a family. And your neighbors are your friends. But that's the way it is, here at Northwest Landing. This is a brand new small town with heritage-style homes, a modern master plan and miles of wonderful walking trails. We hope you'll see us soon. So you can live the way of life you defend. Because we think no one deserves it more than you.
